RECORDS FALL AT COLLEGE CONTESTS

Hubbard of Michigan Sets Mark In Running Jump; New Time for Mile

CHICAGO, June 13.—De Hart Hubbard of the University of Michigan broke the world's record for the running broad jump at the national intercollegiate meet this afternoon when he leaped 25 feet, 10 7-8 inches.

It was the greatest leap ever made by a human, and likely will stand for years to come. The marvelous ebony was given a powerful hand by the crowd of 6000.

Hubbard also set a new national collegiate record of 9 8-10 for the 100-yard dash. Other records that went during the afternoon follow:

Although De Hart Hubbard, Michigan's ebony flyer, cracked the present national intercollegiate mark by dashing the 100-yard dash in 9 8-10 seconds, he was unable to set a new world record Hubbard won by three feet. The old mark was 9 9-10 seconds made by Paulu of Grinnell three year ago.

Reese of Texas set a new mark 4:18 4-5 in the one-mile run.

Hartranft, Stanford, raised the distance in the shot put to 50 feet.

Charteris, University of Washington, ran the half-mile in 1:55 4-10, for a new collegiate mark.

Hoffman of Stanford raised the record in the discus throw, when he tossed the plate 148 feet 4 inches.

Leistner, Stanford's great hurdler, skipped off with the 120-yard high hurdles.

Tiny Hartranft, Stanford, raised the 16-pound shotput mark a few whiskers when he tossed the lead ball 50 feet and cracked the old intercollegiate record by 7-8 of an inch.

Reese of Texas made a new N. C. A. A. mark of 4:18 4-5 in the mile run, beating the old mark of 4:20 2-5, set by Shields of Pennsylvania State in 1922.

Arrests Loom On Killing Dog As Dying Wish

LOS ANGELES, June 13.—The Society for the Prevention of Cruelty to Animals may investigate the cremation here yesterday of Snowball, a French poodle, it was reported today.

The dog was chloroformed and cremated later with the body of its mistress, Mrs. Myrtle Goodyear, a circus performer known as Myrtle Ross.

Just before she died, Mrs. Goodyear ordered the dog killed and cremated with her own body.

The ashes of the woman and her pet will be taken to Syracuse, N. Y., for burial.

In the meantime, however, it is reported that members of the Society for the Prevention of Cruelty to Animals have become interested in the chloroforming of the dog and may ask the authorities to cause arrests.

It is claimed that Mrs. Goodyear before her death told friends she "could not rest in her grave" if the ashes of her pet dog were not reposing beside her own ashes and she gave strict instructions for the pet's death.

Huffman and Colima Match for July 21

LOS ANGELES, June 13.—Eddie Huffman, former navy light heavyweight champion, and Bert Colima, California middleweight, were matched this afternoon to box ten rounds here July 21, at Jack Doyle's show in the Vernon ball park. Huffman was promised a crack at Gene Tunney champion, if he defeated Colima.

On the same card, as the first main event, Doyle said he was trying to match Charles Rosenberg, bantamweight champion with Bud Taylor, Terre Haute Ind., boxer, who is now in California.

DEATH COMES WITH FREAK WEATHER

Tornado, Rain And Electric Storm Strike Various Parts Of Country

Dispatches to The Glendale Evening News by International News Service carry the following facts concerning "unusual" weather conditions:

Freak weather conditions which in the last twenty-four hours have brought tornadoes in southern Minnesota and Iowa and wind storms throughout the entire middle western territory, resulting in property damage amounting to thousands of dollars, were blamed today on a low pressure area in the vicinity of Medicine Hat, Canada.

Winds in Chicago reached a velocity of forty-four miles an hour, which caused some damage to roofs, signs, trees and fences. Two persons were injured by flying debris. A heavy rainstorm followed the gale.

Heavy crop damage was reported in reports of windstorms in Minnesota.

In Iowa rain storms that assumed the proportions of cloudbursts put streams out of banks and flooded much farm lands with heavy losses to crops and stock. In parts of that state a heavy hail storm followed the rain. In the vicinity of Charles City, Iowa, hail piled up three feet in the road.

Blows Train Off Track

At Alexandria, Iowa, a tornado unroofed more than a score of houses, blew a train off the track and injured one passenger. Near Marshalltown, Iowa, about 1000 feet of track on the Minneapolis & St. Paul railroad were washed out.

Rains were continuing over most of the region this morning, breaking a drought that threatened to destroy crops.

Violent electric storms brought death and destruction in the hot arid sections of the southwest.

Three children were killed and nearly a score injured, several probably fatally, near a Breckenridge, Texas, school house, which was jammed with persons attending a mass meeting. Panic followed the strike any many were hurt as they milled about the small room, battling each other for exits.

Galveston was virtually inundated by a torrential rainfall. The precipitation measured 9.67 inches in six hours, paralyzing traffic and causing property damage. Boats were in use early today for transportation in Galveston streets.

At Houston, only thirty miles away, not a drop of rain fell.

Dragon Of Colorado Klan Sent To Prison

DENVER, June 13.—Dr. John Galen Locke, grand dragon of the Ku Klux Klan in Colorado, today was sentenced to an indefinite term in jail by Federal Judge J. Foster Symes for contempt of court. He was immediately locked up in the county jail.

Locke was recently ordered by Judge Symes to produce records of his personal financial transactions for the past ten years, in order that treasury department investigators might determine whether he had violated the law in failing to make an income tax return. Dr. Locke claimed the books were lost last week while being transferred in an automobile near the federal court. Judge Symes declined to accept this explanation.

BURIED MINER SENDS MESSAGE FROM TOMB HE IS ALIVE, UNHURT

Man Under Ground Since Thursday Says He Is Getting Hungry; Rescue Work By Big Force of Volunteers

MOUTH OF BALTIC MINE, NEAR GRASS VALLEY, Cal., June 13.—The outside world came to Robert Hill, entombed miner, through a steel pipe at noon today and Hill told the world that he was alive.

"I'm all right," he told Robert Bedford, superintendent of the North Star mine, who is leading the rescue work.

"Are you there?" Bedford shouted after the steel pipe had been driven through the twenty feet of rock and debris separating Hill from the outside.

"Yes, I'm all right and not injured," came back the reply in a clear, firm voice.

"But I'm very hungry," he added.

"How is the wife and children?" came a query from the entombed man.

"They're all right and waiting for you at the mouth of the mine," Bedford told the entombed man.

Wife Hears News

The news that her husband was safe and uninjured was carried to Mrs. Hill at the mine's mouth.

She was overjoyed and almost overcome at the news.

"We will reach Hill some time late today," was Bedford's confident prediction after the pipe had definitely established that only twenty feet remained to go.

Spurred on by the assurance that Hill, entombed in the Baltic gold mine near here, 800 feet under ground, still lives, volunteer workers worked madly to remove the last few feet of rock and gravel that blocked the tunnel and imprisoned the miner Thursday night.

The rescue work had many of the dramatic elements which attended the fight to rescue Floyd Collins in Kentucky. Due to the narrowness of the tunnel, the miners seeking to reach Hill have to work in relays of four.

Fifty feet of rock and gravel caved in Thursday night, catching Hill behind the fall. The work of removing this debris was started at once, but it was not until 7 o'clock last night that it was definitely known the entombed man was alive.

Riffs Form Escort For Market People To City

LONDON, June 13.—In an attempt to disprove charges made against them of outrages against non-combatants, Riff "irregulars" formed an armed escort for market people en route to Tangiers and accompanied them to within three miles of the city, according to a dispatch today to the Times from Tangiers.

VETERAN PILOT WINNER AT ALTOONA

De Paolo Is Second and Hartz Third; Thrilling Escapes From Death

ALTOONA, Pa., June 13.—Taking the lead at the 143rd lap the veteran, Tommy Milton, flashed to victory in the annual 250-mile feature Flag Day race here this afternoon. De Paolo was second, and Hartz third. The winner's time was 2 hours, 40 minutes, 21 4-10 seconds.

The drivers drew lots for starting positions. Leon Duray and Bennett Hill were the first to start. They were followed by the others in pairs.

The field of contestants was increased to eighteen at the last minute when Jim Hill, who had qualified at the eleventh hour, pronounced his R. & J. special in condition for the race just before the other pilots lined up for the start.

Frenzied thousands were on their feet when Starter Fred Wagner gave the pilots the red flag as they passed the stands after making a preliminary round of the mile-and-a-quarter track to pick up speed.

The drivers were off in a burst of speed, Duray and Hill maintaining their lead during the first lap.

At the end of the first twenty-five miles, Hill continued to lead but Duray had dropped back to fifth position.

At the fifty-mile mark Bennie Hill was fighting desperately to keep ahead of the flying Earl Cooper, the latter driving one of the front wheel drive junior eights. De Paolo was running

MOB SETS FIRE TO BRITISH CONSULATE

Students In Riot Loot Many Foreign Concession Buildings, Report

SHANGHAI, June 14 (1 a. m.)—A force of Japanese marines was landed and two American destroyers are rushing to Kiukiang, an important railroad city on the Yangtse river in Kiangsi province, following a two-hour reign of terror there.

The British and Japanese consulates and many of the foreign concession buildings were looted by rioting students.

A bank was reported to have been razed and the British consulate was fired by the angry mob. The flames were extinguished without serious damage to the structure.

The mobs were suppressed by Chinese troops after a hard battle.

Cantonese Troops Now In Possession Of Canton

HONG KONG, June 13.—Canton is in possession of Cantonese troops today following a heavy bombardment during which Yunnanese forces looted the city and then deserted it.

The city was invested by Cantonese troops which crossed the river while Russian-trained Chinese advanced across the main land. The victorious Cantonese were supported by a "mosquito" fleet manned by Russians.

General Lauchwan, commanding the Kwangsi province troops, who had commanded the section of the besieged Yunnanese forces in Canton, was killed during the fighting.

The Christian college and foreigners generally were being protected by the American gunboat Pampanga. All foreigners in Shameen, the foreign concession city, have been sworn in as special constables.

The British consul at Shameen is reported to have asked all European women to leave the area in which fighting was still continuing.

BELIEVE RICH WOMAN MAY HAVE BEEN MURDERED

Hunt Grounds of Summer Cabin In Canyon for Mrs. Grace Young

LOS ANGELES, June 13.—Sensational developments in the mysterious disappearance of Mrs. Grace Young, executrix of the million-dollar estate of Patrick Grogan, "olive king," her former husband, are expected late today as the result of secret investigations being conducted under the direction of District Attorney Asa Keyes. Mrs. Young disappeared on February 21.

Deputy district attorneys and investigators today visited the summer cabin home of the woman's husband, Dr. Thomas W. Young, dentist, in Beverly Glen and dug about the premises in hopes of finding traces of the body. District Attorney Keyes today declare the woman may have been murdered. The cabin is also being searched for any clues as to the disappearance of Mrs. Young.

Dr. Young today is reported to have made a statement to officials of the district attorney's office that he loaned a two and one-half carat diamond ring belonging to his wife to his office assistant, Miss Dorothy Leopold, when Miss Leopold was engaged to Dr. William Starrow. The ring was loaned to the girl, Dr. Young is said to have stated, to tease Dr. Starrow.

The engagement between the girl and Dr. Starrow was broken about a month and a half ago, according to the statement, on account of a visit Miss Leopold made to Dr. Young's summer cabin. In the party, according to the statement, was Dr. Young, Miss Leopold, Miss Leopold's mother and Charles Patrick Grogan, 18-year-old heir of the "olive king" and son of the missing woman.

The district attorney said he had two theories of Mrs. Young's strange absence; either she was dead or had gone to London or Paris to establish a residence in an effort to obtain a divorce.

Girl Makes Denial

Miss Leopold was questioned today regarding the disappearance of Mrs. Young, by investigators in the case but she denied any knowledge of why the woman had dropped from sight. Miss Leopold declared it was "a shame the way people talked" and that "Mrs. Young was not jealous" of her. The assistant said she was merely the dentist's assistant and a warm friend of Mrs. Young.

Spanish Affair

Mrs. A. H. Montgomery was hostess again yesterday in her attractive Spanish-California home on San Luis Rey drive, Verdugo Woodlands, entertaining at luncheon and for an informal afternoon, curators of departments, chairmen of committees of the Tuesday Afternoon club and a small group of other guests. The affair was the first of a series of Spanish affairs which will anticipate the brilliant California festival Glendale is to hold in the fall. In carrying out the old California spirit the Spanish colors, red and yellow, were used in luncheon appointments.

Red and yellow flowers and streamers of ribbon in the same colors were used on the tables. Favors at the places were glass baskets of flowers, gifts for the guests. The place cards were very clever, being simply cards with advertising cuts chosen to express characteristics of the various guests.

Assisting Mrs. Montgomery were her daughter, Mrs. Charles Robert Hurst, of Huntington Park, and her sister-in-law, Miss Laura Montgomery. Following the luncheon the afternoon was spent informally in the attractive living room, which commands wonderful views of the surrounding hills. Each person was asked to give an impromptu entertainment feature. Most enjoyable were the readings by Mrs. R. E. Chase and the songs by Mrs. Virginia Freeman, who was accompanied by Mrs. Roberta T. Young.

Guests were Mesdames C. W. Houston, E. W. Gilliland, Frank C. Weller, R. A. Ballagh, William Hunter, Frank C. Ayars, F. L. Hollingsworth, C. J. Higgins, C. H. CLOTHESLINE HALTS RIDE BY GIRL

Miss Mary Gibbs Is Thrown From Horse As Police Try To Catch Her

Mary Gibbs, 17-year-old girl of La Crescenta, who has kept the police departments of Burbank and Glendale in a furore for the past six months by her eccentricities, was taken to juvenile hall today from the Glendale hospital where she was placed early this morning as a result of her latest escapade.

Miss Gibbs is said to have called at the Oakmont Country club stables yesterday noon and asked J. R. Thorpe, proprietor, for two horses. According to Thorpe, Miss Gibbs said she wanted one quiet horse and one "with plenty of pep." One of the horses, she is said to have told Thorpe, was for a friend.

When the horses and rider had not returned to the stables at 9 o'clock last night, Thorpe notified the Glendale police department. Fifteen minutes later one horse, "Happy," without bridle or saddle, was brought to police headquarters by Douglas Bacon, 461 West Myrtle street, and Earl Fiock, 504 Patterson avenue, who stated they found the horse tied with a wire around its neck, to a tree near their homes.

Hits Clothesline

At 1:30 o'clock this morning Patrolman Gidden reported to headquarters that he had seen the girl riding one of the horses at Park avenue and Brand boulevard. Sergeant Kerns and Patrolman Wisdom were sent to the scene, and the chase started.

When Sergeant Kerns and Patrolman Wisdom arrived, they saw the girl riding hard. She was mounted on "Chino," one of the prize jumpers of the Oakmont stables, and as the officers started after her, she tried to elude them by making a short cut. She took a fence on the jump, and started across the yard, when a wire clothesline interrupted her flight.

The clothesline, according to the officers, caught the girl under the chin and she was thrown from the horse. She was knocked unconscious by the fall and was removed to the Glendale hospital, where she was unconscious for two hours. The horse was caught by the officers and returned to its owner.

At 5.30 o'clock this morning Thorpe and Sergeant Kerns vis-

NEW MEMBERS OF CHURCH HONORED

Annual Reception Combined With Tribute Paid To Rev. Ernest Ford

The annual reception to new members of First Baptist church and celebration of the sixth anniversary of Rev. and Mrs. Ernest E. Ford coming to Glendale to take charge of the local church was held last night at the church, the affair being given under auspices of the Women's Union of First Baptist church. The program arranged by Mrs. Harry W. Chase was announced by Mrs. H. Park Arnold, president of the Women's Union.

In the receiving line were Rev. and Mrs. Ford, Roy Kent, superintendent of Sunday school; Mrs. H. Park Arnold, president of Women's Union; C. E. Boynton, president of Men's Tri Mu Bible class; Mrs. S. Daggs, president of Mizpah class; J. Ray Bentley, president of board of trustees; Mrs. Wayland Wood, pastor's assistant; Mrs. J. F. Moody, representing the deaconesses; George McLeod, board of deacons; Mrs. Paul Elliott, president of R. T. W. class; Mrs. Oren Howard, superintendent of intermediate department and Miss Beulah Woods, Hi B. Y. P. U.

Program Presented

The program included selections by Sunday school orchestra, under direction of Rene Olin; George McLeod, member of board of deacons; greetings to new members; Miss Daphne Goss, group of readings; Mrs. H. M. Bennett, representing the new members responded to Mr. McLeod's talk; Mrs. A. M. Draper, group of songs, accompanied by Mrs. J. Ray Bentley.

Rev. and Mrs. Ford were presented with a leather traveling bag, a gift from the church, and presented by Roy Kent. Rev. Ford gave a short talk in response. After the program the crowd was divided into twelve groups, representing the twelve months of the year. Each group chose a captain and composed a song which they sang. The July group was proclaimed winners of the contest, they having composed an original song which they sang to the tune of "The Star Spangled Banner." Refreshments were served later. Mrs. Robert Morrow, social chairman, was in charge of serving refreshments.

GREEK THEATRE FOR PARK NEAR ATWATER

Portion of Griffith Estate Is Sold to Provide Funds for Project; Pick Site Within Next Few Days

A $750,000 Greek theatre for Griffith park was announced today, following sale of 130 acres of the Griffith estate at the corner of Los Feliz road and Riverside drive for subdivision purposes.

According to the will of the late E. M. Griffith who left the vast park to the city of Los Angeles, three-quarters of a million dollars received from the sale of additional parts of the estate, must go for a Greek theatre in the park. With completion of the recent sale of the Los Feliz and Riverside drive tract sufficient funds for the project are available.

Where in the park the theatre will be located has not been definitely determined. Architects in company with Van Griffith, chairman of the park board and son of the donor of the park, will hold a conference in the near future to select a location, it was said.

Tentative plans for the great structure, now being drawn, call for an outdoor auditorium equal in size or larger than the Hollywood bowl and with every modern improvement. The Greek theatre will be part of the major park plant outlined recently for the vast Griffith estate.

Bernardino where he will engage in the real estate business.

After a prolonged visit with friends in the Atwater district Clifford K. Swartzbaugh has returned to his home at Cincinnati, Ohio.

Bobby Lipscomb, 3-year-old son of Mr. and Mrs. P. E. Lipscomb of 3410 Larga avenue, is on the road to recovery after being seriously ill for the past week.

Atwater Building Activity

Figures released from the office of City Building Inspector J. J. Baccus today disclosed that 290 dwellings are in course of erection in the Atwater district. There is this number of building permits outstanding in the Atwater section at the present time, it was announced. The number is believed to be the largest of any section of Los Angeles at the present time, it was declared.

To Start Sewer Work

Work on the extension of the Glendale outfall sewer system through Atwater Park from Los Feliz to Glendale boulevard will be started Monday morning. Surveyors marked the line of the sewer mains on Glenfeliz boulevard yesterday and today and a trench digger will be put to work starting next week. Linking this section of the sewer with the portion already installed above Los Feliz boulevard will necessitate tunneling under Los Feliz boulevard at the Glenfeliz intersection.

Church Choir Reorganized

The choir at the Neighborhood Christian church was reorganized at a special meeting of parishioners last night. The choir will hold regular rehearsals in the future.

To Build Stucco Bungalows

The first of half a dozen stucco bungalows to be erected by him in the next few months, will be built by R. Maihles on Brunswick avenue near Glendale boulevard on a lot recently purchased from Mrs. Pearl Thompson. Mr. Maihles has also purchased the property belonging to Parker Bros. on Boyce avenue.

Miss Rose Hess is erecting a six-room colonial house on Boyce avenue near Glendale boulevard.

Youthful Musicians In First Recital In Public

The program at the Van Grove studio, 337 North Brand boulevard, last night, when Pearl G. Curran, director of the Curran studio presented a group of her piano pupils in recital, proved a triumph for the teachers and the performers. Twenty-nine young musicians appeared, many of them for the first time, and others who were advanced pupils with promising talent.

Duets were played by Margaret Welch and Miss Curran, Maxine Heasley and Frances Hawlish; duo for two pianos, Lucile Whitson, Ella Louise May, Beatrice Smith and Myrtle Crook; solos by Katherine Kohl, Ruby Coker, Jack Kohl, Gloria Curran, Ellen Retts, Ruby Foulkes, Marvin May, Ruth Coker, Herbert Howeth, Vesta Betz, Lottie Hudson, Constance Lefler, Robert Edwards, Jane Smith, June Spear, Harriet Barton, June Yager, Sally Heasley, Ella Louise May, Daniel Hawlish, Vera Lockwood, Beatrice Smith, Francis Hawlish, Maxine Heasley and Lucile Whitson.

The second of these spring recitals will take place Wednesday night, June 17, when thirty of Mrs. Curran's pupils will appear in program at the Van Grove studio.

We Sponsor the Memorial Hall Bond Election, June 16, 1925, BECAUSE:

1. Our soldiers and sailors—the men and women who offered and gave their lives in all America's wars—are worthy the modest memorial proposed.
2. The hall will provide a center and school for patriotism—an efficient aid to the children's schools, which we earnestly support. It will provide a home for any and all service organizations desiring to use it. At present almost all such societies meet here, there and anywhere they can, rent and overhead holding down their membership and consuming the funds needed for civic and patriotic endeavors.
3. Glendale is one of the very few cities similar in size and ambition which has not erected an adequate token of appreciation to its veterans.
4. The memorial, neither ornate nor luxurious, but substantial and serviceable, will be built, owned and controlled by the city and located where city authorities may determine.
5. The American Legion, true to its promise, is turning in the site voted them two years ago to be used or sold as may be deemed best. The Patriotic and Memorial Hall association, if made custodian of the memorial, plans to maintain and care for it.
6. The cost is ridiculously small in proportion to the great benefits to be derived from this great civic asset. To the average taxpayer less than "a pint of ice cream per year."
7. Because we know the people did not forget their sons and daughters during the trying days of war and steadfastly believe they will not forget them now.

THE INEVITABLE RESULT—

Of pampering a child is an increase in the number of useless citizens.
Of egotism in the boss is contempt among the employes.
Of intolerance in religion is atheism among the masses.
Of law breaking by adults is moral recklessness among youth.
Of worry is a multiplication of troubles.
Of better workmanship is better wages.

FLAG DAY

It is quite heartening to those who believe that patriotism is on the down-grade in America to pass a school just as the morning session is about to open and see the children line up in an orderly manner and give the salute to the flag, which is required to be displayed in front of every schoolhouse in California on the days when school is in session. It also is pleasing to know that one of the first things a child learns in school is the salute to the flag.

When the big Shrine parade was held in the Los Angeles coliseum last week, every delegation of Shriners carried, with other insignia, an American flag. As Old Glory passed each section of this audience of nearly 100,000 people, they rose and stood at attention. As they were being seated the next section was rising, and so on around the immense bowl. Scarcely had one flag passed until another was coming into view and this mass of humanity, in showing their respect for the national colors, resembled nothing so much as a field of grain rippling in the wind.

There is no doubt that we honor and respect the flag, but we often abuse it by being careless or ignorant of the way to use it. We love to see it displayed freely for no other colors look so well in the way of decoration but we are often promiscuous in its use and violate the rules for its display.

Tomorrow is Flag day. Let us display Old Glory but make sure we do not violate these rules which are made public by the National Society of the Daughters of the American Revolution:

Display only between sunrise and sunset or between such hours as may be designated by proper authority.

When carried in procession with other flag or flags, it should be carried on the right or in front.

When displayed on a wall with other flags, from crossed staffs, the flag of the United States should be on the right, the flag's own right, and its staff should be in front of the staff of the other flag.

When a number of flags are grouped and displayed from staffs, the flag of the United States should be in the center or at the highest point of the group.

When the flags of two or more nations are flown beside that of the United States flag, they should be displayed from separate staffs the same height as the American flag.

When the flag is displayed from a window or a staff, projecting horizontally or at an angle from the window sill, the union of the flag should go clear to the head of the staff unless it is at half mast.

When the flag is displayed other than from a staff, it should be flat, whether indoors or out, and the union should be uppermost and to the flag's own right—the observer's left.

When displayed in a window, the union should be to the left of the observer in the street and always at the top.

When displayed over a street or between buildings, the flag should be suspended vertically with the union to the north or the east.

When used on a speaker's platform the flag should be displayed above and behind the speaker.

It should never be used to drape a speaker's desk or to cover the platform. If flown from a staff it should be on the speaker's right.

When used to unveil a monument or statue the flag should never be allowed to fall to the ground but should be carried aloft by halliards to wave out and form a distinctive feature during the rest of the ceremony.

When flown at half mast, the flag is first hoisted to the peak and then lowered to the half-staff position. When lowering a half masted flag it should be raised again to the peak, then lowered.

On Memorial day it should be displayed at half-mast from sunrise until noon and at full staff from noon until sunset.

When a flag is displayed in a church it should be from a staff placed on the congregation's right as they face the clergyman.

When a flag is no longer fit for use, it should not be cast aside but should be destroyed privately, preferably by burning.

EDITORIAL OPINION

If editorial opinion is worth anything to the readers of a newspaper, and if they give it any consideration, it must be dependable. This being true, an editor must not be too quick to express his views. Unless an editorial is honest and sincere, unless there seems to the writer to be a call for it, then it is of no value to the paper or the readers.

A paper is often asked to "roast this" or "boost that" editorially and there is often a great temptation to do so, but if an editor makes a practice of doing this without investigating or considering the matter the reader soon feels the lack of sincerity and does not value this editor's opinion even when it is given honestly.

You value your banker's advice because you know he is honest with you. He won't tell you a certain investment is good just because he knows you would like to believe it is good. He will give you the benefit of his knowledge and experience honestly no matter how you may receive it. Just so the readers of a paper expect editorial opinion to be reliable and sincere.

For this reason the editor of The Glendale Evening News is slow to express himself at times on some subjects on which editorial comment might be expected. We do not support or oppose projects that come up, merely for the sake of having something to write about or to gain publicity for the paper.

The French are said to be gradually forcing an agreement with the Soviets for the repayment of the money which Russia borrowed from France for the World war. Evidently France is not always in favor of cancellation.

W. J. Bryan says that science has made war more terrible, but it does not seem that modern fighting has anything on the days when they used to puncture one another with iron-shod spikes and battle-axes.

LET THE WEDDING BILLS RING OUT!

The Art of Living

By DR. FRANK CRANE

Pascal thought that living was so important everybody must be studying it. But he said he was surprised to find that more people knew the laws of life.

Living is an art and one that is to be learned by practice, and executed by skill.

Our real happiness is not a matter of chance, but of law. Our condition today depends on what we did yesterday. And whether any man is happy or not is a consequence of his total former actions.

Inner success is certain. It is as much a subject of law as mathematics.

In the real life of a man there is no such thing as luck. Perhaps luck has a great deal to do with our outward efficiency, with our place in the world and with our fame, but it has nothing to do with our real contentment. Anybody can be content that wants to be.

Our condition depends largely on our thoughts. It is the result of what takes place in us and not what occurs to us from the outside.

Those who deliberately turn their attention away from disagreeable things, from failures and misery and wretchedness and contemplate that which is bright and beautiful and sunny find the effect of it gradually growing upon them.

The sum total of one's life and one's efficiency depends also upon discipline. The undisciplined as a rule are the unhappy. If a man does not have himself well under control he is liable to become the slave to the most unruly passions.

The principal difference between the wise man and the fool is that the wise man controls himself. He knows just how far to give way to his desires, while the fool is helpless before them.

The former is like a man steering a boat and the other is like a boat drifting helplessly before the wind.

If you want your life to get anywhere there must be plan and purpose and aim and steady persistence.

It is an amazing thing that in our schools every sort of subject is studied except the art of living. As a consequence we have many experts in medicine, in all sorts of sciences, and in literature, but few experts in life.

What we all need to know, however, is how to live, not how to get on, for, unless getting on administers to the richness and value of our life, it is not worth while.

Many a man has found his goal attained, yet his mouth is full of ashes. The realization of his dreams does not bring him happiness because he has not learned how to live.

Horoscope

Jupiter and Mars are in benefic aspect this morning, according to astrology. The Sun and Uranus are adverse.

In the morning hours it should be lucky to buy and speculation is fairly well directed.

Under this rule judges, the clergy and all who lead in the thought of the people should benefit.

Construction on a large scale is well directed by the stars today and there is likely to be much public building that will benefit communities.

Engineers are to have many calls from far countries for there is to be much hasty railroad building.

The planets this morning are in aspects stimulating to big deals, especially those that require financial courage.

Again co-operative ideas appear to be acceptable, if the signs read by the seers are reliable.

Women should beware of inviting criticism and misjudgment for the stars this summer will impel them to dress in extreme styles and to seek the approbation of men.

Although it may not be apparent at this time modesty is to become again the fashion for women and there is to be a period in which fantastic modes and behaviors of post-war days are discarded.

The world is really improving in many ways, the seers declare, despite the apparent increase of crime and immorality.

Occultists declare that evil will kill itself and that the world will emerge from this decade with a great gain in civilization.

One of the significant signs of the times is to be a new interest in household pets and many strange animals will become the associates of humanity in what is to be a new fad.

Persons whose birthdate it is may make mistakes this year in following a bent for travel. They will prosper best at home.

Children born on this day have the augury of great success in whatever they undertake. These subjects of Gemini are usually fond of change and inclined to be constantly on the move.

Today's Poem

THE UNWISE CHOICE

Two young men, when I was poor,
Came and stood at my open door;
One said to me, "I have gold to give;"
And one, "I will love you while I live!"
My sight was dazzled; woe's the day!
And I sent the poor young man away;
Sent him away, I know not where,
And my heart went with him, unaware.
He did not give me any sighs,
But he left his picture in my eyes;
And in my eyes it has always been:
I have no heart to keep it in!
Beside the lane with hedges sweet,
Where we parted, ne'er more to meet.
He pulled a flower of love's own hue,
And where it had been came out two!
And in the grass where he stood for years,
The dews of the morning looked like tears.
Still smiles the house where I was born
Among its fields of wheat and corn.
Wheat and corn that strangers bind—
I reap as I sowed, and I sowed to the wind.
As one who feels the truth break through
His dream, and knows his dream untrue,
I live where splendors shine, and sigh,
For the peace that splendor cannot buy;
Sigh for the day I was rich though poor,
And saw the two young men at my door!

—Alice Cary.

The Best of Advice

By CLARK KINNAIRD

CLARK KINNAIRD

A long time ago Pascal opined that, "It is dangerous to tell the people that the laws are unjust; for they obey them only because they think them just."

Some well-meaning gentlemen are agitated because a visitor from foreign parts is criticizing the American conception of justice, and want him deported.

Let us not be too sure that our conception of justice is above criticism. It has no sacred origin.

Justice is what is established; and thus all our established laws will necessarily be regarded as just without examination, since they are established.

As custom determines what is agreeable, so also does it determine justice.

Custom creates the whole of equity, for the simple reason that it is accepted. It is the mystical foundation of its authority; whoever carries it back to first principles destroys it.

"Nothing is so faulty as those laws which correct faults," Pascal decided. "He who obeys them because they are just obeys a justice which is imaginary, and not the essence of the law; it is quite self-contained, it is law and nothing more. He who will examine its motive will find it so feeble and so trifling that if he be not accustomed to contemplate the wonders of human imagination, he will marvel that one century has gained for it so much in pomp and reverence.

"The art of opposition and revolution is to unsettle established customs, sounding them to their source, to point out their want of authority and justice."

We must, it is said, get back to the natural and fundamental laws set forth in the Constitution which unjust customs have abrogated. Yet the Constitution as framed by the fathers was not perfect, and its authors were well aware of the fact.

It is to be doubted if there ever will be a time when "Might is right" will not be true.

Might is the sovereign of the world, and not opinion, as many philosophers aver.

It is right that what is just should be obeyed; it is necessary that what is strongest should be obeyed.

Might without justice is tyrannical, but justice without might is helpless.

Pascal observed that "Justice is subject to dispute; might is easily recognized and is not disputed. So we cannot give might to justice, because might has gainsaid justice, and has declared that it is she herself who is just. And thus being unable to make what is just strong, we have made what is strong just."

Wedding Anniversary Is Observed By Couple

Mr. and Mrs. Addison J. Comstock, 666 Myrtle street, celebrated the fifty-sixth anniversary of their marriage Wednesday, June 10. An interesting feature connected with the event occurred just a few days previous when Mr. Comstock, while looking over a collection of old coins and paper money, discovered his father's signature on a small bill, dated 1800, and made in Michigan.

NAMED PRESIDENT

PORTLAND, Ore., June 13.—Mrs. Edgar Stillman Kelley of Oxford, Ohio, was elected president of the National Federation of Music clubs by the board of directors of the federation here yesterday afternoon. Her election was contested closely by Mrs. Cecil Frankel of Los Angeles. The vote was said to have been 27 to 17.

AMAZING SUM FOR MOVIES IN SOUTH

Outlay Of Hundred Million Planned Part Of Which Will Build Theatres

By GIL A. COWAN
For Southland News Service.

LOS ANGELES, June 13.—Astounding figures totalling more than $100,000,000 have been given out as production costs for motion pictures to be made in Southern California studios, partially due to the fight now raging between independent producers and others whom they please to call a combine. But a more far-reaching effect of this fight in the form of prosperity may be seen here in the competitive construction of theatres by these and other interests.

More than a score of motion picture palaces in Los Angeles and nearby cities are either being built, or are already financed and await only the architect's completion of plans, a survey reveals.

The greatest activity, of course, is among the chain theatre owners, but independents are giving them a close race in the amount of money being spent.

Build in Glendale

Two new theatres in Glendale are under way, two more in Hollywood, two in Santa Ana, and one each in a dozen other communities, while Los Angeles has one large film house, a musical comedy theatre and a new Orpheum building under way.

San Bernardino has just seen one new theatre open and Alexander Pantages is planning to enter that and other fields in the more distant centers from Los Angeles. Many small neighborhood houses also are being fitted up, as example the Orana arena at Santa Ana, which is being remodelled for the spoken drama at a cost of $10,000.

Also Build Offices

Theatre construction this year will entail an expenditure of not less than $8,000,000 in the seven southernmost counties of the state, it is roughly estimated, as the Los Angeles projects include office buildings. Close on the heels of recreational centers comes a hotel program while more than a million dollars worth of new church edifices are under way.

A housing shortage in Ventura, Brawley, Imperial and several other towns where growth has been retarded from various causes, also is noted, although Pasadena, Long Beach and several of the larger suburbs of Los Angeles offer a large list of vacant property.

KEEP TRAFFIC AWAY FROM TRENCHES

Cave-in On Colorado Street Brings Ruling To Avoid Future Accidents

Heavy traffic hereafter will be kept off of Colorado street in the vicinity of trenching operations for the laying of a main intercepting sewer, according to an ultimatum delivered by J. C. Hicks, contractor, that has received the tacit support of City Engineer J. F. Johannsen and other city officials.

It was in the Colorado street trench that Max Moore, Alhambra, lost his life and four others had narrow escapes from death last week when the sixteen-foot walls caved in on them, carrying down heavy broken blocks of paving to make the rescue work more difficult.

"The trench where the cave-in occurred was one of the finest I have ever seen," said Johannsen today. "But the condition of the sandy soil beneath the pavement made it extremely dangerous.

Sand Offers Danger

"As the work progresses west on Colorado street the type of soil changes and where digging operations are under way now it is almost a quicksand. If the pavement above, even as far away as the curbs, is permitted to be jarred by traffic, there will be another cave-in. The continual jarring would loosen the sand particles beneath and probably cause a more disastrous accident than the one last week.

"The contractor does not desire to endanger the lives of his men any more than can be helped, and we will co-operate with him to the fullest extent.

No Wasted Time

"The city will not permit blocks to be closed to traffic, however, before actual digging operations are started, and just as soon as it is humanly possible the closed sections will be reopened. Crews are following as close behind as possible to patch the openings in the pavement and nowhere in the city are streets being kept closed for any length of time.

"Some slight inconvenience will be caused to business men in blocks that are temporarily closed to traffic, but far better a little inconvenience than the loss of more lives.

"It would be murder to permit the continual jarring of traffic above the trench where workmen are digging and laying pipe."

Realty Boards Favored for Broker Tests

The new 1925 real estate directory is now on the press of the state printing office, and the envelopes are addressed to the 20,000 brokers and firms who will receive them, according to the State Real Estate department in a statement to the California Real Estate association.

The state association has asked the acting commissioner, A. P. Soule, to furnish the association and local boards with a formal method of procedure in examining applicants for broker's licenses, according to President D. Richard Ainsley.

Real estate boards have already examined hundreds of applicants and the qualification test is working out satisfactorily, according to department officials.

The ability of the applicant to handle a real estate transaction, his moral and financial qualifications are examined into, and in every case the ruling of the local board committees has been satisfactory, it is learned. If the applicant prefers, he may be examined by the real estate department.

Applicants generally prefer the real estate boards which are established local institutions, and accordingly the new plan is in high favor. It will probably be adopted by other states, the state association learns, and at the national convention in Detroit, former Commissioner Edwin T. Keiser will address the national conference on the subject.

Orchestra To Feature New Pasadena House

The splendid assemblage of musicians constituting Bard's concert orchestra, under the leadership of Leon Strachan, well-known conductor of orchestras throughout the country, is already in rehearsal.

Many of the artists were formerly members of Elinor's orchestra at the California theatre, Los Angeles, and this organization will be one of the features of Bard's Pasadena theatre when it opens Tuesday night, June 23. A giant Wurlitzer organ is being installed, and this, tpo, will be in the hands of a master. Miss Ella Miller, for many years at the consol at the California and Miller's in Los Angeles, is the organist.

Microphones and loud speakers will carry the music to the remostest parts of the theatre, and even to the street on occasion The advance sale for the opening night is in progress at Hunter & Williams' store, 49 East Colorado.

CHEVY CHASE CONTINUING DRIVEWAY

Road In New Subdivision Is Being Built To Flintridge And Pasadena

Actual construction of Chevy Chase drive from its present terminus in Chevy Chase to Flintridge and Pasadena was started last week by Clarence P. Day, contractor, who was recently awarded this work by the Los Angeles county Board of Supervisors. It is estimated that the work will take from ninety to 120 days.

According to Bert Farrar, owner and subdivider of Chevy Chase, the water and gas mains to serve the upper part of his property will be installed at the time the drive is graded. A large reservoir is to be constructed at a high level in Chevy Chase, and when this is completed work on the golf links will be completed also.

Grade Golf Links

At the present time preliminary grading and clearing of the golf links is being carried on under the direction of Billy Bell, noted golf architect, and Albro Gardner Jr., engineer for Bert Farrar Inc. This new course will occupy seventy acres, it is stated, and will be of championship length.

According to Paul E. McDermott, director of sales at Chevy Chase, the demand for the wooded homesites that will eventually front on the completed Chevy Chase drive has been so great that they are now sold for nearly a mile beyond the end of the present paving, but new property is being made available at the present time to fill the constant demand that exists.

Problems Of Ushering Discussed At Dinner

Joseph Charleville, president of the Ushers' association of Temple Baptist church, Los Angeles, was the speaker last night at the monthly meeting of the Ushers' association of Glendale Presbyterian church. Dinner was served at 6:30 o'clock. Mr. Charleville spoke of the problems of ushering in a large city church. W. G. Boyd, president of the local organization, presided during the meeting.

Dr. J. K. Gilkerson, elder, and member of the association, was toastmaster. Talks were given by John Wilde, chief usher; W. H. Barnes, chairman of the reception committee, and Rev. W E. Edmonds, pastor. Plans were made for a social to be held for members of the association and their wives next month, no date being set for the affair.

DIFFICULTIES IN BUILDING EXPLAINED

Construction On Hillsides Present Problems To All Contractors

By FERD GOODFELLOW
Owners' Representative, Acacia Hills

Every builder is interested in hillside construction. The ever-increasing demand for hillside homes must be met, and every progressive builder is equipping himself to harvest the rewards offered in this field of endeavor.

Many new problems confront the builder when he tackles a hillside job. Several of these problems are considered and suggestions made.

The first problem is one of excavation; excavation for the garage and excavation for the house foundation. On a hillside lot the excavation for the garage can be eliminated by choosing the lot on the lower instead of the upper side of the road. Excavating for the house foundation cannot be avoided, but it can be very greatly reduced by selecting a wide lot and planning a wide house, which will reduce by half or better this important item of cost.

Height of Wall

Another problem is that of controlling the height of the "downhill" wall of the house. It must be considered from two distinct angles, i. e., the difficulty of designing an attractive exterior elevation, or front, when the height of this "downhill" wall is excessive and the cost of constructing a high wall. The length (or depth) of the house can be decreased best by building the house wider.

A thing to be avoided in hillside construction is excessive excavating at the "uphill" side of the house, for two reasons: first, because of its cost, and second, because to build the house in a "cut" interferes with free circulation of air.

Conservation of view is most important. Houses built long in the up-and-down-hill dimension will get a view only from their two end rooms, while houses that are built on the contour of the hill will get a splendid view from every room.

Protecting View

Protection of the view by the elimination of objectionable and unpleasant objects in the immediate foreground of that view is vital. Do not buy a lot where flat roofs can be built immediately below your house; they are ugly, most unsightly, and a blot upon the view you wish to enjoy when they are immediately below you.

Climatic conditions make or mar an otherwise ideal home. A hillside home in all other respects perfect may be located at the foot of a mountain and be devoid of cooling breezes during summer months, a direct necessity. Homes built upon the windward side of a ridge extending out into a valley are always blessed with cooling breezes and are most comfortable.

The lots in Acacia Hills meet all these requirements and are worthy careful consideration by every hillside home builder.

City Employes Hunting Reputation As Anglers

With the avowed intention of regaining their reputations as deep sea fishermen, city employes and officials, police officers and others will spend tomorrow "somewhere at sea," aboard the fishing boat "Maybelle," owned by Capt. A. Larson, Redondo Beach.

Thirty who made up a deep sea fishing party a month ago returned with three small fish. Tomorrow Detective Lieutenant William J. Royle declared, the fish will be brought back in sacks, "if they have to be bought at the docks."

The party will leave the city hall at 6 o'clock tomorrow morning and expect to return by 7 o'clock at night. Members of the party will be Royle, A. H. Hak, George Chapman, C. E. Woelfel, F. C. Wesley, Dinty Moore, C. Kline, R. Dilley, I. Musfelt, J. Counell, O. Summers, O. Fulmer, D. Snell, A. H. Lapham, John Cleland, Charles Wolf, Charles Shattuck, William Elwood, J. R. Hamilton and H. B. Thompson.

Scouts Meet At Home Of Victim Of Accident

Boy Scouts of troop 8, sponsired by the Knights of Columbus, met last night at the home of Scout Bill Hail, 1652 El Rita street. Hail has been confined to his home some time, following a recent accident. After a business meeting songs were sung, and musical features were given by Charles Hirt and Leo Ratigan. The boys are planning for a summer outing at Camp Blue Jay, near Lake Arrowhead, July 6 to 10. A watermelon feed closed the affair.

Trio Drive To Fresno For Realtors' Banquet

Secretary Glenn D. Willaman of the California Real Estate association, with headquarters in Los Angeles, accompanied by Mrs. Willaman, and Gil A. Cowan of The Glendale Evening News staff, motored to Fresno today for the annual meeting of the San Joaquin Valley Realty association, and the banquet of the Fresno Realty board.

The local newspaperman, who also manages Southland News Service in Los Angeles, boasts of a personal acquaintanceship with California realtors, legislators and newspaper men from Siskiyou to San Diego, as well as in Arizona and Nevada. He worked with Mr. Willaman in Bakersfield eight years ago on The Morning Echo and both entered secret service work in the army during the World war. L. H. Myers, a Glendale realtor, served in the same group.

Record In Title Filing Is Made for Country

According to F. S. Balthis, manager of the plant department of the Title Guarantee & Trust Co., the filings in April, 1925, reached a total of 49,645 instruments, which is the record. January was second with 49,631, while October, 1923, ranked third with 49,203. This report covers Los Angeles county.

Renewed activity in building has relieved the unemployment situation in Toronto.

Declares Realtor Is Offered Great Chance

"There is no limit to what the State Real Estate association can accomplish in California if individual boards continue to co-operate. There will come a time when communities will regard their realtors as they do their lawyers, doctors, and other professional men. The term 'realtor' will become a household word."

This is the message D. Richard Ainsley, Fresno, president of the California Real Estate association, brought to 100 members of the San Jose Realty board at a dinner in his honor in the Vendome hotel recently.

Lithuania is planning extensive railroad construction.

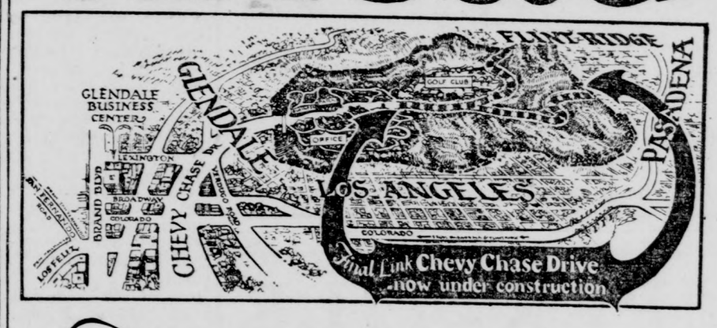
forging ahead



We are selling to-day in advance of development

Every day the new roads in Chevy Chase are driven deeper and deeper into this great virgin area.

Our own crews are working night and day and the county contractor is pushing ahead on Chevy Chase Drive with an army of men, mules and equipment.

And yet the demand for these unique tree-clad homesites is so great that we are selling nearly a mile ahead of road development. Of course there are good reasons for this condition.

First—Everyone who sees the beauty of Chevy Chase and the marvelous plan for its development is anxious to select choice locations at once.

Second—The tremendous importance of Chevy Chase Drive as a value builder is recognized by all realty experts.

Third—Our prices pending completion of this great highway are WAY BELOW all surrounding values. Compare them yourself;

CLUB TEAMS TO BOOST CONCERTS

Give Prizes In Music Series To Workers Making Most Sales In Contest

Mrs. Mattison Boyd Jones, president of Glendale Music club, has made a special request that all members and captains of the ten teams be on hand without fail at the meeting Monday night at 7:30 o'clock at Van Grove salon, North Brand boulevard. Each person is requested to bring a pencil and paper as names will be given out of their prospective clients. Special recognition will go to the team or teams which report 100 per cent. A list of 800 names has been prepared from which each worker will choose eight, and if members of the teams are present they will have the privilege of selecting the names of those whom they choose to see. The concert series has been endorsed by the Glendale Chamber of Commerce and Merchants' association, as a civic event for Glendale. Mrs. Jones announces that special prizes will be given at the close of the drive. To the team of ten people securing the greatest number over seventy-five will be given ten season tickets; to the individual will be given two season tickets and the next highest individual will receive one season ticket.

Slogan Is Planned

A slogan will be chosen at the meeting, to be used during the drive. A prize will be awarded for the best slogan. To the men's organization turning in the greatest number of subscribers over seventy-five will be awarded a prize of ten season tickets, which they may use or dispose of as they see fit.

A great interest has already been manifested in the drive and a surprising number of volunteer subscriptions have already been received.

New Building for Plumbers

Opening their fifth house in Glendale on May 1, Coony & Winterbottom, contracting plumbers, bring to this city a main branch of their concern, which is one of the largest plumbing corporations this side of Chicago.

The new plant, located on Verdugo road, near Colorado street, is modern in every respect. The building was constructed by J. C. May, contractor of Glendale. An acre of property was purchased on which the building stands and the building constructed and completed at a cost of $25,000. The spending of this amount in Glendale by the firm was done upon the insistence of the many business connections in Glendale and prompted by the desire to render efficient, prompt and reliable plumbing service to the local building industry.

A spacious display room greets you on entering the building. Here are on display plumbing fixtures featuring many manufactured in California—which are always used where possible in offering quality products. The main office is very up-to-date. In the rear is sufficient room and equipment to take care of a large volume of work.

R. T. Winterbottom will be in personal charge of the Glendale branch. It is well to remember that it was his interest in Glendale and faith in its future, which were the deciding factors in locating their large branch here. Mr. Winterbottom said, "In our moving to Glendale to take care of the large volume of business we already had here, was a very wise one—for we have found the local building industry welcoming us in a most cordial manner, both in new business and their appreciation of the service which we are endeavoring to render. Naturally we employ only the highest skilled workmen to be found in Glendale, for it is against our policy to hire boys or inexperienced men. I wish to thank everyone." Mr. Winterbottom also extended a personal invitation to anyone interested to make a visit to the plant.

The supply house of Coony & Winterbottom is located at 2425 Hunter street, Los Angeles.

CONFIDENCE

As a general rule intelligent people buy clothing, shoes, etc., that bear the name of the manufacturer plainly stamped inside—because the "Name" inspires "Confidence" in the buyer. They know they can buy others cheaper, but past experience has taught them that "Cheap Things" never give satisfaction, and are more expensive in the long run.

When you are placing the contract for the erection of a new home, you should have "CONFIDENCE" in the integrity and ability of the contractors. The Name "SAWYER & BOLEN" on your contract is a guarantee of expert workmanship, the best of materials and fair and square treatment in every respect.

Pupils of the sixth grade of Colorado school presented the program Thursday afternoon at the last meeting of Colorado Parent-Teacher association. Mrs. Schlotzhauer, teacher, directed the program. A play, "In a Railway Ticket Office," was presented by the seventeen class members. Piano numbers were also given by members of the class. Each pupil was presented with a ribbon bearing the inscription "Colorado school, June, 1925," in gilt letters, by Mrs. Frank W. Parr, retiring president. Mrs. Parr presented the new officers of the association and Mrs. R. Ernest Tucker, president, took charge. Mrs. Tucker told of the recent state convention held at Fresno. Mrs. Parr was presented with a basket of flowers and a past president's pin, gifts from the association. The principal of the school and teachers were given a vote of thanks for their co-operation during the year.

Local Officials Attend Boulder Dam Session

Mayor Harry G. MacBain, City Manager V. B. Stone and Peter Diederich, superintendent of plant and production, are today attending the annual meeting of the Boulder Dam association at the Casa Loma hotel, Ontario.

Speakers include Mayor George E. Cryer of Los Angeles; Arthur P. Davis, engineer and former director of the reclamation service, and William Mulholland, Los Angeles, chief engineer of the Los Angeles aqueduct.

Dishonesty In Children Is Blamed On Parents

Viola Waddell, 1229 East Wilson avenue, has closed her year's lectures before schools and clubs in Glendale and other Southern California cities. She gave her final lecture yesterday at Loretta school, Los Angeles. The theme of her lectures has been "Teaching Children to be Honest." She places the responsibility for many phases of dishonesty in children with adults.

ANSWERS FLOOD THEATRE'S MAIL

Interest Displayed In Name Contest For Playhouse Delights Manager

Tonight marks the close of the contest to decide a name for the Glendale Community Players. Many letters have been received, but it is hoped that a final choice may be made in time to have the chosen title and the winner's name announced in Monday's paper. Fred Warrington, production manager, is more than pleased with the enthusiasm the citizens of Glendale have shown toward this contest.

"With such enthusiasm and co-operation as Glendale has shown us," Warrington said, "I feel confident that a community theatre cannot help but succeed here."

"Icebound," their first production, will open June 22, for six nights. Theodore Bliss, director, has been associated with the stage for many years. He has picked a cast of capable players.

The settings are being designed by Jacques Darcy, one of the finest scenic and costume designers in the United States. It will be interesting to see his work in the future productions of the new theatre.

Proposed City Budget To Have Public Airing

Following a public hearing scheduled for 10 o'clock next Thursday morning on the proposed 1925-26 municipal budget, indications at the city hall today were that the budget will be formally approved by the City Council on the following Thursday, June 25. While the council has until Tuesday, June 30, finally to adopt it, members fear that, if left until the last day permitted by law, proper consideration cannot be given it then.

As submitted to the council the budget will require a tax rate of approximately $1.23, an increase of 12 cents over the 1924-25 budget. That rate is based on an assessed valuation of approximately $52,000,000, an increase over the present valuation of $47,061,355.

Frequent committee-of-the-whole meetings have been held during the past two weeks to consider various items in the budget, and on Thursday it will be formally opened to the public for discussion.

Twin Beds Placed Behind Doors Now

It is not uncommon to find the most luxurious apartment equipped with beds hiding behind a door, ready at any time to be used and to transfer the living room into a bedroom. In fact, the apartment not so equipped cannot be considered modern, according to Kenneth Beldin of the Beldin Sales Co.

Murphy beds may be obtained in a variety of styles and sizes, according to Beldin. The Murphy bed was designed originally to comply with the growing demand for making every inch of space count. Needless to say it met with instant approval.

With the ever increasing popularity of the twin bed, Murphy placed them on the market, also. The twin beds have every advantage found in the original Murphy bed and with health authorities recommending this style, many of the new buildings have adopted them as equipment. They, too, come in the variety of styles created by the Simmons Co. and in many finishes. It should be noted that Murphy beds can be finished in any specified color or stain, Beldin says.

Tulsa Lot Sells For 7,471 Per Cent Profit

A fraction more than 8,471 per cent profit on the original investment. Land value now has eighty-five times the value it had twenty-two years ago. That is the newest story of advance in real estate value due to city growth which has come to the National Association of Real Estate boards. This time it's from the records of a recent real estate transaction in Tulsa, Oklahoma.

The transaction was the sale of a 75x140-foot lot. In 1903 the lot was bought by R. S. Corlitt for $1750. Corlitt has just sold the lot for $150,000. The property during the last few years is said to have yielded a yearly gross income nearly three and a half times its purchase price.

Local Contractor Gets Large School Contract

The Allen Construction Co., 416 Security building, Glendale, has been awarded the general contract by the Los Angeles Board of Education, for the construction of the $84,000 Toland Way school building in the city of Los Angeles. DASHING COMEDY OPENS TOMORROW

Reginald Denny In 'I'll Show You The Town' At Glendale

Trying to win the favors of a wealthy widow to save the fortunes of a bankrupt college is the job of Reginald Denny in his latest laughing success. "I'll Show You the Town," the Universal feature opening at the Glendale Theatre tomorrow for three days.

Agnes Clevenger, the country's homeliest woman and one of the wealthiest, leaves her provincial homestead for a visit to the gay metropolis to "see the town." No sooner arrived in the big city the widow is ensnared in the net of a group of "philanthropic" charity sharks, each of whom has specific plans by which the wealthy widow can dispose of her money. To free her from this entanglement that she may shower her gold over a sorely defunct college is the job which falls to the lot of Denny, in the role of Professor Dupree, a dashing, daring gallant of "easy street."

An ambitious youth, the methods which the professor resorts to are ambitious to the extreme. In fact, he goes so far as to make innocent love to the sceptical and cagy widow only to be taken seriously. His "philanthropic" love for the heiress throws the youthful professor into a terrific jam from which it is almost impossible to become extricated.

How the courageous Professor wins both the girl of his heart and the widow's gold for the defunct college is revealed in a series of side-splitting situations in which are injected a few thrills for good measure, such as a hectic airplane flight over the metropolis, in which Denny takes the widow, as played by Cissy Fitzgerald, on a record breaking sight-seeing tour.

The supporting cast for "I'll Show You the Town" include such popular favorites as Marian Nixon, Edward Kimball, Lilyan Tashman, Hayden Stevenson, Cissy Fitzgerald, Margaret Livingston, Neely Edwards, William A. Carroll, Martha Wadose, Helen Greene and Lionel Braham. Harry H. Pollard directed the production.

Miss Jennie Freeman, head of the English department, is going to visit her home town, Provincetown, Mass., during the summer.

Mrs. Ethel W. Bailey, French teacher, will probably make a trip east in August, visiting at Grand Rapids, Mich., Toledo, Ohio, and in New York. During July she expects to "entertain company."

TEACHERS ELECT CLUB PRESIDENT

Faculty Chooses Officers for New Term After Contest That Proves Close

By DUGALD BLUE

Next semester the Glendale Union High School Teachers' club will have as its president J. Rhea Baker of the commercial department. Last Monday afternoon, during a meeting of the club at the Broadway High school, the semi-annual elections for club officers were held.

In his race for prexy, Mr. Baker was closely contested by Howard L. Butterfield of the physical training department, winning over his opponent only by a very small margin. Herman H. Wiebe, of the history department, won the position of vice-president from Earl T. Brown, science instructor. Anna S. Elam, English teacher, and Preston Fullen, instructor of penmanship, were the successful candidates for the offices of secretary and treasurer, respectively.

Names of Officers

The complete election returns were as follows: President, John Rhea Baker; vice-president, Herman H. Wiebe; secretary, Anna S. Elam; treasurer, Preston Fullen.

Committee chairmen: Executive, Otho McDowell (retiring president); education, Clara S. Lauderdale; legislation, George O. Lockwood; sick, Mary Brown Pigg; publicity, Paul E. Webb; athletics, Morgan Smith.

After the votes were counted and the election returns completed, the meeting was adjourned and the teachers left for Oakmont Country club, where a farewell faculty banquet was held. Each member of the Board of Education spoke a few words, after which Tony Brewster, dramatic coach, delivered two comic selections, "While the Young Man Waited Below" and "Modern Menace." Both selections made quite a hit with the sixty attending teachers.

BROOKSIDE PARK IS PICNIC SCENE

Proving Favorite Haunt Of Students Who Long For Outdoor Life

By CLARK HARMON

Brookside park seems to be the favorite haunt of picnickers from G. U. H. S. as Miss Jessie Hills first period history class was the second group to enjoy a frolic at the park during the last week.

The afternoon was spent in many games, of which indoor baseball seemed to be the most popular. This was possible as the class had plenty of time because of leaving for the resort as soon as school was out. After the games a delicious picnic lunch was served.

The committee which had charge of the entertainment and refreshments was composed of Margaret Knight, chairman; Roland Reed, Julia Goetz and Josephine Hogue. Those in charge of transportation were Dick Stone and Lionel Grindel.

Camp Several Weeks In Coast Mountains

A camping trip to the Santa Cruz mountains will be Miss Daisy Monroe's recreation for a few weeks of the vacation. She is a Spanish teacher at the Broadway High school.

Former Kansas Home Draws Math. Teacher

Miss Mary Brownrigg of the mathematics department will visit her home in Paola, Kan., soon after school lets out.

See British Columbia From Motorist's Seat

Miss Hazel Allin, Spanish teacher, will make an extended motoring trip to Washington, Oregon and British Columbia.

CHESS ENTHUSIASTS FORM BATTLE ARRAY

Results of Contests With Neighboring Schools Arouse Keen Interest at Glendale Institution

By WARD FOULTZ

In order to unite the chess enthusiasts of Glendale Union High school, a Chess club has been formed. Started and organized last semester by Richardson Jones and Wendell Snyder, it has made a successful opening with a membership of thirteen.

Richardson Jones has been the president up to this time, while Wendell Snyder has occupied the office of vice-president, and Lucas Alden, secretary and treasurer.

At a recent meeting, the officers for next year were chosen. Tom Sawyer was elected president; Ted Sawyer was elected vice-president, and Charles Buss, secretary and treasurer.

Belongs to League

The G. U. H. S. club is a member of the Los Angeles High School Chess club league. Although it has not been able to compete in league tournaments with the other members, the club has taken part in several practice games. It won from Lincoln and Jefferson high schools, was forfeited a game by Hollywood High, and lost to Hollywood and Roosevelt high schools. The latter is the leading member of the league. Next year the G. U. H. S. Chess club will have an opportunity to compete for the coveted league championship in regular tournament.

The present team composed of Richardson Jones, William Maitland, Tom Sawyer, Ted Sawyer, and Walter Wheelock in the order of their respective standings, has just received its league pins, obtainable only by being a club representative in an inter-scholastic contest.

Besides merely occupying themselves by playing friendly games for practice, the members of the Chess club have been holding an individual competitive tournament. Richardson Jones has been the victor thus far, having won nine games and lost none. Tom Sawyer and Ted Sawyer are tied for second place with a score of 7-2. Walter Wheelock is third with a score of 7-3 and Lucas Alden fourth, his score being 6-4.

Play Blind Chess

During the last two weeks the Chess club members have been playing blind chess, that is, another member watches the board and makes the moves while the two players direct him. Since four wrong moves disqualified a player and loses the game for him, the contests have been unusually exciting, and have afforded the members much entertainment.

ADD NEW CLUBS TO FORMER LIST

More Spanish Organizations Formed And One Presents Interesting Plays

By GENE LYNCH

Several Spanish clubs have been added to the list of societies at Glendale high school this year, under the supervision of Mrs. Mabel O. Lambert and Miss Hazel Allen.

The Las Campaneros chose as their officers, Eloise Madrid, president; Roy Deschlager, vice-president, and Fyrn Deaster, secretary-treasurer.

The Las Estrallas gave a number of interesting plays, among them "La Lavendera de Napoleon."

The Los Marajoles Espanoles purchased two beautiful hand-tinted photographs of San Juan Capistrano, which hang on the walls of room 131.

The two other clubs, Los Filosofas and Los Camarados Espanoles, are formed by all students. They gave advanced plays and programs.

See Famous Resorts Just For Recreation

Summer Cabin Scene For Vacation Outing

C. E. Merrill of the science department of Harvard High is planning to spend his vacation at Cedar Pines park, near San Bernardino, where he owns a summer cabin.

Math. Instructor Has State Tour Planned

J. Benton Wirt of the mathematical department of Harvard High will probably make a tour of California while enjoying his vacation.

Puget Sound Islands Attracts One Teacher

Miss Josefa Seely, teacher of geometry, plans to spend her vacation at Puget Sound, and is going to visit various islands around that district.

Will Take Parents On Tour Of California

Fred Sihler of the office force is expecting his parents from the east this summer, and plans to spend two weeks touring Southern California with them.

STUDENT CHEFS SERVE TRUSTEES

Banquet To School Board Members And Wives Is Marked By Menu

By VIRGINIA EDWARDS

Members of the advanced cooking class served a delightful menu at the trustees' banquet, held last Thursday. The menu was as follows: Fruit cocktail, strained strawberries over pineapple, consomme, croutons, crab meat souffle, cucumbers, radishes, rolls, butter, sandwiches, roast chicken, creamed potatoes, buttered asparagus tips, butter balls, pickled pears, cherry ice, stuffed tomato salad, cheese straws, grape sherbet, raspberry ice cream, cake, after-dinner mints, demi tasse.

The following guests were present: Mr. and Mrs. Moyse, Mr. and Mrs. Ferguson, Mr. and Mrs. Oliver, Mr. and Mrs. Pearce, Mr. and Mrs. Adams, Mr. and Mrs. Bentley and President and Mrs. Tower.

Girls Did It All

Everything was prepared by the girls, including the lavender and pink decorations and place cards.

The girls who served were: Marlorie Phillips, Clarice Anderson, Dorothy Schenck, Lillian Bakken, Edith Kramer, Dorothy Reed, Pauline Miller, Lorraine Wagner, Helen Birch, Gertrude Ashton and Wilma Hunt.

GIRLS HAVE DAY AT OCEAN PARK

Hiking Club Discards Plans For Business To Enjoy Beach Attractions

By GENE LYNCH

Saturday, June 6, was the date of an enjoyable picnic held by the girls' hiking club at Ocean Park.

The girls left about eight o'clock Saturday morning, for the beach. Each one took a picnic lunch and prepared to have a good time. According to Dorothy Cramer, club president, the water was the most wonderful ever seen and the swimming was great.

Officers were to have been elected for the coming semester but because not all the girls were present the day was spent entirely in pleasure.

Leaving the beach at about 5 o'clock the girls on returning home proclaimed the day a great success and one long to be remembered.

Will Go East By Rail And Return Via Auto

James Pierce, athletic coach, will, if present plans carry out, journey back east to Indianapolis, his home, and from there to New York and Washington, D. C. He intends to go by train and return by automobile.

After Seeing Wedding Will Tour Europe

Conducting one of the select Temple tours throughout Europe will compose the entire vacation of Miss Dorothy Gilson, language teacher.

On her way east she intends to stop off at Denver, Colo., to be bridesmaid at her brother's wedding.

SCHOOL ORATORS IN CUP CONTEST

Los Angeles Youth Wins First With Long Beach Taking Next Honor

By WARD FOULTZ

Winners of local oratorical contests in five high schools competed for the oratorical championship of Southern California last night in the Broadway High school auditorium. Chester Williams from the Los Angeles High school delivered the prize-winning oration, "Who's Rocking the Boat?" The Long Beach representative, William Fennell, speaking on "Highways and the Nation," won second place.

As a rule the prizes—a silver loving cup to the winning school, a gold medal to the winner of first place and a silver medal to the second—are awarded the night of the contest, but due to some delay the loving cup and medals were not delivered on time and could not be given to the winners.

Matter of Custom

It has been the custom for those schools which hold local oratorical contests such as the one at G. U. H. S. annually to enter their winner in a final contest competing with other representatives for the Southern California oratorical championship.

Sixteen high schools were eligible to compete, but only five entered: Long Beach, Glendale, Pasadena, University of Southern California high school and Los Angeles.

In pleading for obedience to the Eighteenth amendment, Chester Williams, winner of first place, said, "Public opinion has not yet turned against the aggressor—the one who drinks, the one who is rocking the boat, and it is now time for society itself to rise up against the man who disobeys the Eighteenth amendment, thus endangering the peace and safety of the people of this nation. It is the duty of every loyal citizen, including you and I, to stop this man who is rocking the boat—the very ship of state—by violating our most sacred institution, the law."

Voice Was Good

Chester's excellent voice inflection in his delivery, combined with an unusually good oration, made the decision of almost all the judges collaborate in giving him first place.

William Kennell, representing Long Beach, chose for his topic "Highways and the Nation." His presentation and excellent gesture as well as the content of his oration made him run a close second to the winner. "Let us preserve for coming generations the highways which mean so much to us," William said. In conclusion he quoted Franklin K. Lane, saying, "Remember that a nation can always be judged by its highways."

The other speakers were: Edwin Bike from the University of Southern California High school, who spoke on "Law or Anarchy?" Jean Williams, Glendale representative, whose topic was "Charity," and Thomas Anderson from Pasadena, who gave an oration on "Crispus Attucks."

Girl Orator Pleases

The three speakers who did not win prizes are, however, to be complimented on the fine showing they made. Edwin Bike had one of the best orations of the evening. Jean Williams, first freshman winner of the local oratorical contest in Glendale, thrilled her audience with her simple, sweet plea for more charity. Thomas Anderson had one of the best deliveries of the evening, speaking with a hearfelt enthusiasm.

Only the delivery of the contestants was judged last night, since the orations had already been judged in regard to content by the heads of the English department at U. S. C., Pomona and Occidental colleges.

Mr. Smith of Citrus High school, Mr. Huxtabee of Monrovia High school and Mr. Green of Alhambra High school judged the delivery.

Elmer T. Worthy acted as chairman of the occasion.

Glendale Club Women Final Luncheon Guests

Mrs. John C. Urquhart, junior past president of California Federation of Women's clubs, and Mrs. Charles H. Toll, junior past president of Los Angeles district California Federation of Women's clubs, will be special guests Tuesday June 23, at the final luncheon and meeting of the Tuesday Afternoon club. At this luncheon committee chairmen who have not made annual reports, will be presented. Installation of officers-elect will take place in the afternoon.

TEACHERS PLAN VACATION TRIPS

Questions Addressed To Many Instructors Elicit Interesting News

With the coming of vacation time G. U. H. S. teachers are planning to enjoy themselves in a variety of ways. Some intend to take additional courses of instruction, others travel through Europe, and still others are going to remain at "Home Sweet Home."

The plans of a few of them are given below:

Ross V. Miller, general science teacher, intends to spend the summer months as playgrounds instructor at one of the Los Angeles city playgrounds.

Will Visit Parents

Miss Marjorie Tuft, who is a Spanish teacher at the Broadway High, intends to spend part of her vacation at her parents' home in Fresno.

"I'm going to spend my vacation vegetating somewhere in the country," laughingly stated Miss Mary Rigg, English instructor, when questioned about her plans for the summer.

Goes to San Diego

Miss Ella Hardy, also of the English department, plans to spend the summer at her home in San Diego visiting her relatives.

Learning to drive her new car is going to be the chief diversion for Miss Daisy Lake, librarian.

Eleanor Green, of the science department, intends to take a trip away from the city and hopes to be able to make an ocean journey.

Will Go on Ranch

Earl T. Brown, head of the science department, may find it necessary to go to Washington, D C., on business but if not he will probably spend a part of the summer on his mother-in-law's ranch at Paso Robles and the remainder in his cabin in the San Bernardino mountains.

Miss Merle McGrath, of the mathematics department, is either going to tour the east or spend the summer at her home in Berkeley.

Mrs. Mabel O. Lambert, Spanish teacher, will go to the beach for a few weeks and will also take several short motoring trips.

Beach Is Her Goal

Miss Eleanor W. Thayer plans on spending a few weeks at the beach, her favorite place of recreation.

Miss Isabel Stevens, Latin teacher and head of the language department, has a desire for further study, and consequently plans on taking a six weeks' course at the University of California, Southern Branch.

Miss Teresa Cornelius, biology instructor, will spend a part of her vacation traveling in northern California. Later in the season she expects to entertain friends from the east by taking several short trips around Southern California.

Herman H. Wiebe, of the history department, may be seen this summer, as for the past seasons, at the local Security Trust &Savings bank.

Aeroplane, Maybe

Miss Jeannette C. Abel, popular art teacher, gave out the following statement about her summer plans; "I am going around the world by airplane." Then she added with a twinkle in her eye—"subject to change."

Misses Josephine and Geraldine Franklin are planning on spending the greater part of the summer at home making trips at various times to Baldy and Balboa.

SET NEW RULES FOR NEXT TERM

Registration Shows Changes In Regulations Covering Certain Of Classes

By SUMNER LAMKIN

Registration for next semester took place at both the Broadway High and the Harvard High on Tuesday, June 9. The same system, that of stations for each subject, was used as in previous years.

Although lines waiting to be registered were whole corridors long, most of the students managed to be finished by four o'clock that afternoon.

New Rules Made

Several new regulations were made. One year of free-hand drawing is required of all students in the art department, except those taking art appreciation.

For seniors who wish to take English, three courses are given: (1) A II English, which will count as a B-12 credit; (2) senior composition; (3) B-12 English.

B-10 elementary business training is offered only to those who have not had arithmetic.

Will Visit In Arizona During Summer Time

Miss Jennie McGregor, if present plans carry, will visit her brother in Arizona this summer.

Japan expects a bumper silk crop.

STAGE AND SCREEN

VIEWS AND PREVIEWS—NEWS NOTES FROM STUDIOS

Compiled By Members of The Glendale Evening News Staff

Tainted Cash

Film of thrills closes tonight at Glendale Theatre; vaudeville bill includes exceptional acts.

Action, thrills and romance are packed into "Tainted Money" showing for the last times today at the Glendale Theatre. William Fairbanks is starred, and Eva Novak is the heroine.

Fairbanks has most of the action but Miss Novak, with whom he is in love, manages to be on the job just in time to prevent him from being blown to atoms when the rival group of lumber men whom he is fighting leave him tied in a cabin at the edge of a cliff which is to be blown up in five minutes.

On the stage the ready wit and clever topical rhymings of Hap Farnell of the team of Farnell & Florence mark them as an outstanding attraction of the vaudeville bill.

"Oh, You Flirt," a one-act skit by Billy Gross & co. gives Gross ample scope for his recognized ability as a comedian while it gives the supporting members of the cast an opportunity to display their histrionic abilities. An abundance of elaborate stage settings furnishes the proper atmosphere for the plot.

One of the most unusual musical offerings is Sang & Chung, two Chinese boys who have voices that harmonize exceptionally well and who know how and what to sing. They also have a fund of good comedy that is even more rare with Oriental acts. Their beautiful colored and gold embroidered costumes lend a decided touch of Oriental atmosphere and greatly enhances the appearance of the act.

Peters and LeBuff have an exclusive sensational forward somersault off a high horizontal bar to a hand to hand catch.

Miss Lottie Rule provides a musical treat on saxophone and accordion that proves the popularity of these two instruments with modern day audiences. She has a splendid repertoire of good selection as well as a very nifty assortment of pretty clothes and a form on which they drape to advantage.

GLORIA SWANSON ON GATEWAY BILL

'Madame Sans Gene' Starts Tomorrow; Picture Was Made In France

Tonight will be the last opportunity to see Norma Talmadge in "The Lady," at the Gateway theatre. This production gives way to Sunday's program which boasts the screen's most popular star, Gloria Swanson, in "Madame Sans Gene," running Sunday, Monday and Tuesday.

"Madame Sans Gene" is a real screen event. The entire production was filmed in Paris with the co-operation of the French Ministry of Fine Arts. Charles de Roche, Franco-American leading man, heads the cast playing in support of the star.

The story opens in a laundry on Rue St. Anne, where "Madame Sans Gene" does washing for the famous and obscure of Paris. Among the latter is young Napoleon Bonaparte with cast political ideas but a very scanty income.

Sans Gene launders for Bonaparte never asking or taking money until he becomes Emperor of France. Several years later Lefebvre, an army sergeant, who has married Sans Gene, distinguishes himself in the Army of Napoleon Bonaparte and is awarded the baton of Field Marshal by the emperor. A title—Duchess of Dantzig—gives Sans Gene a place in Napoleon's court, but the rigid formality of court life proves irksome to the pretty little laundress-duchess, who repeatedly, although innocently enough, breaks some of the sacred rules of what to say and how to act in court. But here, we're telling you the story—see it yourself.

Red gum lumber of America is called "satin walnut" in Europe, and often is used in making furniture.

Cross Ocean For Summer's Vacation Time

Miss Iva Hunter will make an extensive tour of central Europe, visiting France, England, Germany and Switzerland during the summer period.

Miss Fay N. McEndree will also tour Europe. She plans to leave when the evening school closes and to return by the beginning of next semester.

Young Actor

RICHARD BARTHELMESS, in "New Toys" at the Cosmo theatre.

Few young actors have as many dstinguished performances to their credit as Richard Barthelmess, opening at the Cosmo theatre tomorrow in his latest First National production, "New Toys."

Barthelmess has contributed at least seven famous celluloid portraits to the silver screen.

Scenic grandeur rarely seen upon the screen in a dramatic photoplay forms the background for J. K. McDonald's First National picture, "Frivolous Sal," at the Cosmo theatre for the last times today. Virtually all the outdoor scenes were photographed at Mount Rainier, in Washington, and around the Idaho silver mines.

FINAL DANCE OF SENIORS IS HELD

Closing Class Social Event Of Year Proves Success In Numbers And Fun

By DUGAL D. BLUE

"Trade dances with me?"
"You bet. Which one?"
"Eighth or eleventh?"
"Eighth. Thanks, see you later."

Thus, as it happens at all dances, ran the conversation at the senior farewell, held last night in the girl's gymnasium at Harvard.

The dance floor was gaily decorated and, after the "balloon dance," became a glittering galaxy of color.

The novelty fox-trot was won by two prominent Glendale High students, "Dot" Pickett and "Count" Jones.

Programs Unique

The dance programs were simple, but unique, being a four-page affair. It might be mentioned that punch was served throughout the evening.

As far as the students' work in arranging and carrying out the dance went, it was a complete success.

At 12 o'clock sharp the dance ended with a bang. The graduating seniors will not soon forget this dance, and will look back to it with pleasure as the last big event of their school life, while the underclassmen look forward to the school dances to come.

OFFICIALS HOSTS IN GIRLS' LEAGUE

Retiring Heads Entertain New Executives; Dean Of School Honored

By MADELINE SMITH

Retiring officers of the executive board of the Girls' league entertained the incoming officers at luncheon at the "Kopper Kettle" Tuesday, June 9.

A delicious luncheon consisting of fruit cocktails, meat loaf and baked potatoes, vegetable and salad, ice cream and iced tea was served.

Introduces Officers

Helen Anderson, retiring president, introduced the old and new officers. Each of the retiring officers turned her office over to the incoming officer.

The new officers are: Marian Duey, president; Anna Marjorie Phillips, vice-president; Josephine Franklin, secretary; Beatrice Case, treasurer; Audrey Phillips, finance; Eloise Madrid, uniform chairman; Elizabeth Walker, social chairman; Frances Hodgson, philanthropic; Madeline Smith, publicity; Dorisadelle Pomeroy, welfare; Jean Williams, entertainment; Mable Duncan, friendship.

Dean Is Honored

Retiring officers presented Mrs. Ethel Hume Flood Moyse, dean of girls, with a silver bud vase in appreciation of her untiring efforts in their behalf during their term in office.

Italy, with an area about equal to that of Indiana and Illinois combined, now has a population of 38,000,000.

Diet and Health

COLUMN RULES

My Dear Followers:

Please do not depend upon personal answers from me for conditions that have to have the immediate attention of a physician. And do not depend on the column for such advice, for even though your questions can be answered in the column and answered immediately, it would be at least four weeks before the answer can appear.

My Diet and Health column is a syndicated feature, appearing all over the United States and Canada. It is written and sent out from New York. This means that it has to be prepared three or four weeks in advance. The column creates great interest wherever it appears, and the combined mail from the different places is enormous. In order to be able to handle this and to be helpful to you, there are certain rules which we have formulated which you must follow. Unless these rules are complied with, your letters cannot receive any attention.

First: Address your letters to me in care of this paper. They will be forwarded to my New York city office. Sign your name as evidence of good faith. It will not be used in any way. (When I answer you in the column, I use one initial).

Second: Write legibly and with a pen—if your handwriting is not clear, get somebody to write for you; or use a typewriter. Do not write more than 200 words. Remember the number of letters I get!

Third: When you ask for material which we have offered, you must enclose a large sized, self-addressed, stamped envelope (s. a. s. e.) The address must include your full name, street and number, city or town, and state. The booklet on reducing and gaining is the only one for which you must include 10 cents in loose stamps. Do not send money—it is too easily lost in the mails. (Only one booklet can be sent each request).

Fourth: Do not ask for diagnoses or for individual treatments. Do not ask questions that are not of general interest and answerable in the column. You must see your personal physician for such information. Watch my daily articles for something similar to the questions you want discussed, and consider yourself answered when you see them, whether your initials are appended or not. I must answer questions collectively in order to save time and space.

Fifth: Allow at least three weeks to elapse before thinking your request for material has gone astray or is not answered because you have not followed the rules. Allow a much longer period of time for an answer to appear in the column, if it can appear.

Don't forget to enclose a fully self-addressed and stamped envelope with your request for any material which we have offered (and the ten cents in stamps if you ask for the booklet on reducing and gaining.)

Unless these rules are obeyed, your letters cannot receive any attention.

I feel like adding a last rule. It is this; Save some of your 200 words to continue telling me how much you enjoy the column and how much benefit you are deriving from it. Such a message is an inspiration to me and to the followers and makes our work happier and therefore more helpful.

My Dear Followers:—When sending for material which we offer you please remember to enclose a stamped envelope bearing your full name and address. The pamphlet on reducing and gaining is the only one for which you must enclose four cents in stamps extra. Address your letters to me in care of this paper. Make them as brief as possible, not over 200 words, and type or write them legibly with ink. Please sign your name as evidence of good faith—we will not use it in any way. Remember it is impossible for me to diagnose for you or to answer you personally. I appreciate very much the beautiful letters you send me and regret it is impossible to give you individual advice. The questions you ask will be answered in the column as soon as possible; if they are of general interest. Don't forget the s.a.s.e. if you expect me to send you the information I have offered.

Every housekeeper should know how to make good bread. She may not have the time and strength to bake a "batch" each week, but she enjoys baking a few loaves for special occasions such as guest dinners and holiday gatherings. For every-day use, the excellent loaves we can buy at grocer's and baker's suffice.

To make two loaves of yeast bread, begin by dissolving one-sixth of a cake of compressed yeast in one-fourth cup of luke-warm water. Put into a mixing bowl two cups of scalded sweet milk (or the same amount of hot water, or half milk and half water), and add at once two tablespoons of butter, two tablespoons of sugar and two teaspoons of salt; let the scalded milk cool to the luke-warm stage, then add the dissolved yeast cake. Also stir in three cups of ordinary bread flour and beat well—both to distribute the yeast evenly throughout the mixture and to develop the gluten in the flour.

Next, add three more cups of flour. If the mixture becomes too stiff to stir with a spoon, turn it out onto a slightly floured board to work in the last of these three cups of flour with the hands. Indeed, it may be necessary to work in a very little more flour, from the board's surface, to keep the dough from sticking to the board and hands.

This is the kneading stage. Use a rotary-stretching motion; that is, stretch the dough up from the bottom of the ball and move the ball around in one direction, as you do so. It may be necessary to knead it for ten minutes before it reaches a stage where it is "elastic", and will "spring out" again when dented with the knuckles.

Place the kneaded ball into a large buttered bowl. Cover with a clean piece of board. Stand the bowl in temperature around 80 degrees Fahrenheit—the temperature of a too-warm room—and let it remain at the same temperature for ten hours, or overnight.

In the morning, turn it out onto the floured board again and cut it in half with a sharp knife. Take up each half with the hands, form it into a loaf, and place it in a greased pan. Brush the top of each loaf with melted butter, cover pans with a clean cloth and let rise in a warm place for one and one-half hours (again 80 degrees F.) Bake 45 minutes in a moderate oven.

All inquiries addressed to Miss Kirkman in care of the "Efficient Housekeeping" department will be answered in these columns in their turn. This requires considerable time, however, owing to the great number received. So if a personal or quicker reply is desired, a stamped and self-addressed envelope must be enclosed with the question. Be sure to use YOUR full name, street number, and the name of your city and state.—The Editor.

Chats On Beauty

By EDNA KENT FORBES

A HASTY MANICURE

If your nails look very neglected and you have only a moment or two to spare for them try this lightning manicure—

Wash the hands thoroughly with hot water and soap, if possible scrubbing them with a stiff hand brush. Don't run the water out of the basin, for you will use it again at once. Dry the hands and dig them into half of a lemon. Rub them around and around inside the juicy lemon so that the acid gets well round and under the finger nails. Put the hands back in the basin so as to rinse off the lemon juice and dry. Clean at once under the nails and push back the cuticle with the blunt end of an orangewood stick. Polish quickly with a buffer which has been lightly rubbed with a polishing powder.

Usually this is all that is necessary to make the nails look freshly manicured, for the lemon juice not only removes all stains but shrinks back the cuticle to give a smooth line. One more minute spent with an emery board to give the nails a fresh edge will still more improve their appearance.

I have tried this lightning manicure dozens of times myself. It takes me less than three minutes. If by some chance the cuticle around the nail is already rather dry I rub on a little cold cream after I've washed off the lemon juice, wipe off all that clings to the skin, then push the cuticle back again with the orangewood stick and polish, using a little rose color paste in preference to the drying powder. This takes a little longer, but not more than four or five minutes. However, as I always rub my finger nails full of cold cream last thing at night, the skin is never too dry.

If you have not much time to spend on yourself, by taking a little thought you can cut your beauty treatments down to a few minutes.

Frenchy—There is nothing that you can do to rid yourself of these hairs between the brows but extract them as you are now doing with the tweezers, or have the treatment from the electric needle. As the place is so very sensitive and so near to the eyes, I think using tweezers more advisable than the other treatment. These hairs are very slow in growing so three or four times a year would be about enough for extracting them. I also think they are apt to be weakened by tweezing so that they cease to grow after a time.

Dolly—If you are quite well there is no need to worry over your weight of eighty-five pounds at the age of 15 years. Drinking milk will help you, and so will any other nourishing food. Take plenty of outdoor exercise to increase your appetite, and you will build up your weight to whatever is natural for your size.

All inquiries addressed to Miss Forbes in care of the "Beauty chats" department will be answered in these columns in their turn. This requires considerable time, however, owing to the great number received. Lemon-Hanson

Miss Clarice Louise Hanson became the bride of Donald Lemon of Huntington Park at a wedding last night, Friday, June 12, 1925, at 7:30 o'clock at the home of her parents, Mr. and Mrs. Peter Hanson, 221 West Arden avenue. Rev. Walter L. Thornton, pastor of the First Christian church of Fullerton, performed the double-ring ceremony.

A. Angier of Glendale played "Romance" preceding the ceremony and the bridal chorus from "Lohengrin" as the bridal party entered. A heart-shaped archway of sweetpeas in pastel shades formed the setting for the ceremony. Asparagus fern was used to form a background. Baskets of flowers were used in profusion throughout the Hanson home.

The bride entered the room with her father, who gave her in marriage. She wore a dress of rose pink crepe de chine, embroidered in gold braid. In her hair she wore a band of silver with natural orange blossoms. Her bouquet was a shower of gold tea roses and lilies-of-the-valley. Silver slippers and silver chiffon hose completed her costume.

Miss Eloise Olds of Gardena was maid of honor. Her dress was of pale yellow georgette crepe. She carried an arm bouquet of pale pink tea roses. Virgil Hasken of Huntington Park was best man.

After the ceremony a reception was held, buffet refreshments being served. Individual pieces of the wedding cake were presented each guest. Guests were from Glendale, Huntington Park, Los Angeles, Gardena, Pasadena, Santa Barbara, Compton and Madison, Wis. Out of town guests attending were: Misses Gertrude Burgess, Kate Dearle and Marguerite Perry of Long Beach, college friends of the bride; Miss Katherine Isch of Laguna Beach; Mr. and Mrs. L. L. Olds of Madison, Wis.; Mr. and Mrs. C. S. Ruggles, Mr. and Mrs. George Shippee, Lou Daro of Los Angeles; Mr. and Mrs. Thomas of Colton, Mr. and Mrs. Alfred Lemon of Huntington Park; Mr. and Mrs. Lemon of Los Angeles; Mr. and Mrs. O. C. Olds of Gardena; Mr. and Mrs. R. N. Best, Mr. and Mrs. R. G. Whitney, Mr. and Mrs. H. S. Botsford of Pasadena; Mr. and Mrs. Roy Bittenger, Mr. and Mrs. A. M. Fields, Mr. and Mrs. L. E. Carscallen, all of Gardena.

Mr. and Mrs. Lemon left for a visit to Southern California beaches and next Wednesday they will leave with the bride's parents, Mr. and Mrs. Peter Hanson, on the California Realty board special for the east. They will go to Chicago, Niagara Falls and New York, the trip being a wedding gift from Mr. Hanson. Mrs. Hanson will stop at Omaha, Neb., for a visit at her old home, while Mr. Hanson will attend the National Real Estate convention at Detroit, Mich. He will later go to his old home near Minneapolis, Minn., for a visit. Mr. and Mrs. Lemon will visit with relatives in Chicago and New York and will be gone six weeks. Mr. Hanson also gave the young couple a deed to a Glendale home as a wedding gift. Mr. and Mrs. Alfred Lemon, parents of Mr. Lemon, gave them a $1000 bill as a wedding gift.

Mrs. Lemon is the only daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Peter Hanson and came to Glendale six years ago from Gardena. She graduated from Glendale High school with the class of 1923 and since that time has been attending University of California, Southern Branch. Mr. Lemon is the only son of Mr. and Mrs. Alfred Lemon of Huntington Park, and is employed by the Edison company at Vernon. Wedding presents of silver, cut glass, hand-painted china and linen were on display in the dining room.

Church Wedding

At a wedding ceremony performed last night, Friday, June 12, 1925, at 6 o'clock, at the Little Church of the Flowers, Forest Lawn Memorial park, Miss Margaret E. Abell, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Edgar R. Abell of 1411 Gordon street, Hollywood, became the bride of John Hughes of Los Angeles. Dr. Willsie Martin, pastor of First Methodist Episcopal church, Hollywood, officiated. The bride wore a French blue and silver satin crepe ensemble suit and carried an arm bouquet of butterfly roses. She was given in marriage by her father. Miss Mary Abell, sister of the bride, was bridesmaid. She wore a dress made of blonde satin and carried a bouquet of orchid sweetpeas and yellow columbine. Harold Dibb served as best man. Edward Fearney, fraternity brother of Mr. Hughes, played the wedding music. The bride is a member of Alpha Tai Zeta sorority of University of California, Berkeley. Mr. Hughes is a member of Phi Alpha Mu fraternity of University of Southern California. They will spend the summer at Catalina and in the fall will move to Los Angeles to reside.

Picnic Outing

A picnic for Spanish War veterans and their families will be held Sunday at Ganesha park, Pomona. Glendale camp, Spanish War Veterans, will be represented at the affair, as will also other camps in Southern California. A basket lunch will be served at noon.

Wed in Glendale

Culminating the trio of weddings taking place yesterday at the Little Church of the Flowers, Forest Lawn Memorial park, was the marriage last night, Friday, June 12, 1925, at 8 o'clock, of Miss Edna Carr daughter of Dr. and Mrs. W. R. Carr of 836 Kingsley drive, Los Angeles, and Dr. Lewis J. Cook of Los Angeles. The ceremony was performed in the presence of a large assemblage of relatives and friends by Rev. E. E. Helms, pastor of First Methodist Episcopal church, Los Angeles. The bride was given in marriage by her father.

She wore a white satin dress embroidered in pearls. Her veil was embroidered in orange blossoms and was made with a court train with a cascade of silver ribbon in the back. She carried a shower bouquet. Mrs. D. W. Woods, cousin of the bride, was matron of honor. She wore a lace dress over apricot satin and carried a bouquet of sunset roses and orchid sweetpeas. Misses Betty and Florence Carr, sisters of Miss Carr, were bridesmaids. They wore dresses of sunset georgette and orchid georgette, each being trimmed with gold lace. They carried bouquets of sweetpeas and roses in the same shades as their dresses, to contrast with their costumes. Barbara Woods was flower girl, and Paul Carr, nephew of the bride, was ring bearer. Howard Carr, brother of the bride, served as best man. Kenneth Abbott and T. J. McCormick were ushers.

Preceding the ceremony, Miss Cora Reitz sang "At Dawning" and "Oh, Promise Me," with J. Robert Lohmeyer as accompanist. Dr. and Mrs. Cook left for a honeymoon trip to Yosemite and Lake Tahoe and will return to Los Angeles to make their home.

Dance Tonight

A dance will be given tonight at Sparr Heights Community building by members of Sons of Veterans, Auxiliary No. 7 and Sons of Veterans, camp 22. All patriotic orders in Glendale are extended an invitation to attend.

Shower Honoree

Miss Velma Woodruff of Glendale, whose marriage to Byron Armstrong will be an event of June 20, was honored yesterday afternoon at a linen shower given by members of the Sunshine club of Ionic court, Order of Amaranth, at the home of Mrs. William McMillan, 336 West Milford street. Dorothy Perkins roses showered from an umbrella hung over the table and hand-painted spoon figures holding umbrellas suggested the shower motif. Miss Woodruff received many lovely linen gifts. Mrs. Gertrude E. Baldwin, past president, directed the business meeting in the absence of the president, Mrs. Grace Jackson. In a guessing contest, Mrs. McMillan was awarded first prize, while Mrs. Ada Woodruff received the consolation. Twenty members were present. Luncheon was served at the noon hour. The next meeting will be held July 10, at the home of Mrs. Lula Belle Bursom, corner of Columbus avenue and Broadway.

Picnic Luncheon

The picnic luncheon of the Literature department of Tuesday Afternoon club will be held Wednesday at the home of Mrs. Ralph Pickett, 500 East Cypress street. Those attending have been requested to take table service. Luncheon will be served at noon at a nominal charge. Any member unable to attend is requested to notify Mrs. Pickett or Mrs. J. R. Bolton.

The HOUSE Of The ARROW

A SERIAL STORY WRITTEN BY A. E. W. MASON

Protected By The McClure Newspaper Syndicate

"Mademoiselle Ann touched the face of a woman in the darkness that night—if that night, in the darkness she touched a face at all."

Jim was utterly startled.

"You believe that she was lying to us?" he cried.

Hanaud shook a protesting hand in the air.

"I believe nothing," he said. "I am looking for a criminal."

"Ann Upcott!" Jim spoke the name in amazement. "Ann Upcott!" Then he remembered the look of her as she had told her story, her face convulsed with terror, her shaking tones. "Oh, it's impossible that she was lying. Surely no one could have so mimicked fear?"

Hanaud laughed.

"You may take this from me, my friend. All women who are great criminals are also very artful actresses. I never knew one who wasn't."

"Ann Upcott!" Jim Frobisher once more exclaimed, but now with a trifle less of amazement. He was growing slowly and gradually accustomed to the idea. Still—that girl with the radiant look of young Spring! Oh, no!

"Ann Upcott was left nothing in Mrs. Harlowe's will," he argued. "What could she have to gain by murder?"

"Wait, my friend! Look carefully at her story! Analyze it. You will see—what? That it falls into two parts." Hanaud ground the stump of his cigar beneath his heel, offered one of his black cigarettes to Jim Frobisher and lighted one for himself. He lit it with a sulphur match which Jim thought would never stop fizzling, would never burst into flame.

"One part when she was alone in her bedroom—a little story of terror and acted very effectively, but after all any one could invent it. The other part was not so easy to invent. The communicating door open for no reason, the light beyond, the voice that whispered, 'That will do,' the sound of the struggle! No, my friend, I don't believe that was invented. There were too many little details which seemed to have been lived through. The white face of the clock and the hour leaping at her. No! I think all that must stand. But adapt it a little. See! This morning Waberski told us a story of the Street of Gambetta and of Jean Cladel!"

"Yes," said Jim.

"And I asked you afterwards whether Waberski might not be telling a true story of himself and attributing it to Mademoiselle Harlowe?"

"Yes."

"Well, then, interpret Ann Upcott's story in the same way," continued Hanaud. "Suppose that some time that day she had unlocked the communicating door! What more easy? Madame Harlowe was up during the daytime. Her room was empty. And that communicating door opened not into Madame's bedroom, where perhaps it might have been discovered whether it was locked or not, but into a dressing room."

"Yes," Jim agreed.

"Well then, continue! Ann Upcott is left alone after Mademoiselle Harlowe's departure to Monsieur de Pouillac's ball. She sends Gaston to bed. The house is all dark and asleep. Suppose then that she is joined by—some one—some one with the arrow poison all ready in the hypodermic needle. That they enter the treasure room just as Ann Upcott described. That she turns on the light for a second while—some one—crosses the treasure room and opens the door. Suppose that the voice which whispered, 'That will do now,' was the voice of Ann Upcott herself and that she whispered it across Madame Harlowe's body to the third person in that room!"

"The 'some one,'" exclaimed Jim. "But, who then? Who?"

Hanaud shrugged his shoulders. "Why not Waberski?"

"Waberski?" cried Jim with a new excitement in his voice.

"You asked me what had Ann Upcott to gain by this murder and you answered your own question. Nothing, you said, Monsieur Frobisher, but did your quick answer cover the ground? Waberski—he at all events expected a fine fat legacy. What if he, in return for help, proposed to share that fine fat legacy with the exquisite Mademoiselle Ann? Has she no motive now? In the end what do we know of her at all except that she is the paid companion and therefore poor? Mademoiselle Ann!"; and he threw up his hands. "Where does she spring from? How did she come into that house? Was she, perhaps, Waberski's friend?"—and a cry from Jim brought Hanaud to a stop.

Jim had thought of Waberski as the possible murderer if murder had been done—a murderer who, disappointed of his legacy, the profits of his murder, had carried on his villainy to blackmail and a false accusation. But he had not associated Ann Upcott with him until those moments on the Terrace tower. Yet, now memories began to crowd upon him. The letter to him, for instance. She had said that Waberski had claimed her support and ridiculed his claim. Might that letter not have been a blind and a rather cunning blind? Above all there was a scene passing vividly through his mind which was very different from the scene spread out before his eyes, a scene of lighted rooms and a crowd about a long green table, and a fair, slender girl seated at the table, who lost and lost until the whole of her little pile of banknotes was swept in by the croupier's rake, and then turned away with a high carriage but a quivering lip.

"Aha!" said Hanaud keenly. "You know something after all of Ann Upcott, my friend. What do you know?"

Jim hesitated. At one moment it did not seem fair to her that he should relate his story. Explained, it might wear so different a complexion. At another moment that it would be fairer to let her explain it. And there was Betty to consider. Yes, above all there was Betty to consider. He was in Dijon on her behalf.

"I will tell you," he said to Hanaud. "When I saw you in Paris, I told you that I had never seen Ann Upcott in all my life. I believed it. It wasn't until she danced into the library yesterday morning that I realized I had misled you. I saw Ann Upcott at the trente et quarante table at the Sporting club in Monte Carlo in January of this year. I sat next to her. She was quite alone and losing her money. Nothing would go right for her. She bore herself proudly and well. The only sign I saw of distress was the tightening of her fingers about her little handbag, and a look of defiance thrown at the other players when she rose after her last coup, as though she dared them to pity her. I was, on the other hand, winning, and I slipped a thousand-franc note off the table on to the floor, keeping my heel firmly upon it as you can understand. And as the girl turned to move out from the crowd I stopped her. I said in English, for she was obviously of my race. 'This is yours. You have dropped it on the floor.' She gave me a smile and a little shake of the head. I think that for the moment she dared not trust her lips to speak, and in a second, of course, she was swallowed up in the crowd. I played for a little while longer. Then I too rose and as I passed the entrance to the bar on my way to get my coat, this girl rose up from one of the many little tables and spoke to me. She called me by my name. She thanked me very prettily and said that although she had lost that evening she was not really in any trouble. I doubted the truth of what she said. For she had not one ring upon any finger, not the tiniest necklace about her throat, not one ornament upon her dress or in her hair. She turned away from me at once and went back to the table where she sat down again in the company of a man. The girl of course was Ann Upcott, the man Waberski. It was from him no doubt that she had got my name."

"Did this little episode happen before Ann Upcott became a member of the household?" Hanaud asked.

"Yes," replied Jim. "I think she joined Mrs. Harlowe and Betty at Monte Carlo. I think that she came with them back to Dijon."

"No doubt," said Hanaud. He sat for a little while in silence. Then he said softly, "That does not look so very well for Mademoiselle Ann."

Jim had to admit that it did not.

"But consider this, Monsieur Hanaud," he urged. "If Ann Upcott, which I will not believe, is mixed up in this affair, why should she of her own free will volunteer this story of what she heard upon the night of the twenty-seventh and invent that face which bent down over her in the darkness?"

HOW TO SOLVE THE CROSS WORD PUZZLE

The way to solve the Cross Word Puzzle is to fill in the white squares of the diagram with the words which agree with the accompanying definitions. The definitions are numbered to correspond with the numbers on the diagram.

Any word defined in the text under "HORIZONTAL" will begin at its number, shown on the diagram, and will extend all the way across to the first black space to the right of that number. That is, the word must begin in the square that contains its identifying number, and extend as far as the white squares continue uninterruptedly.

Any word defined under "VERTICAL" will also begin in the white space that contains its number, but will extend downward as far as the white spaces remain uninterruptedly.

UNCLE WIGGILY

By HOWARD R. GARIS

UNCLE WIGGILY AND THE GIRL BIRD.

Saturday, when there were no classes in the Hollow Stump School, taught by the Lady Mouse Teacher, Tooter and Scooter, two of the new little rabbit boys who had come to Uncle Wiggily with his new wife, wondered what they could do to have fun.

"For we certainly have fun in school!" said Tooter.

"Yes," agreed Scooter. "And now it's Saturday, when there isn't any school, but we must have some fun! Oh, I know, Tooter!" he cried. "We could take little May off in the woods and lose her. She will cry and make a fuss, and then we can be Boy Scout rabbits and pretend to find her. And maybe Uncle Wiggily will also help look, and that will be an adventure for him.

"All right—let's take May out in the woods and lose her," agreed the other little rabbit boy.

May was a little pussy cat girl, the cousin of Joie, Tommie and Kittie Kat. Her last name was Bell, so her name was really May Bell. She had a sister named Blue Bell and a brother named Door Bell. But May Bell was the cutest and littlest of all the Bell family. She was fond of having a good time, was May Bell, and she had often gone to the woods on little picnics with Tooter and Scooter.

So when these two little tykes of rabbit boys went up to the yard where May Bell was playing and asked her to come adventuring with them, of course she went. Deep into the woods Tooter and Scooter led May Bell, until they came to a place where some soft, green moss grew beside a tinkling brook.

Lie down here and go to sleep, May!" whispered Scooter. And when the little pussy girl was fast asleep on a bed of moss, those two little mischievous rabbit boys ran away and left her there. They went off to play ball with Jackie and Peetie Bow Wow.

"But we'll come back after a while," said Tooter and Scooter, "and when her mother can't find May, we'll lead them to the woods where we have hidden her." And Scooter agreed to this.

Now when May had slept for a time she awakened. First, she listened to the tinkle of the brook, hardly remembering where she was. Then she called for Tooter and Scooter to come to her. But the rabbit boys were far away, playing ball.

'Oh, dear!" mewed May Bell. "I'm lost! Oh, dear!"

And about this same time Mrs. Bell missed her little pussy girl.

"Oh, Uncle Wiggily, have you seen May Bell?" asked the mother cat as the bunny gentleman hopped past the house.

"No," he answered, "I haven't. But if she is lost I will get the girl bird to call her name in the woods. When your little pussy hears the girl bird calling her name she will answer and thus we can easily find her.

'Who is the girl bird?" asked Mrs. Bell.

"The phoebe bird," answered the bunny. "Here she comes now. Go on, phoebe bird," said the rabbit. Call the girl's name."

So the bird called: "Phoebe! Phoebe! Phoebe!" quite loudly.

"But that isn't my little pussy's name," said Mrs. Bell. "Her name is May. Can't you call that name, girl bird?"

"No, I can only call Phoebe," answered the bird. So after all it wasn't of much use. Then Uncle Wiggily asked a robin, but all that bird could say, was "Cheer up! Cheer up! Cheer up!"

"How can I cheer up when my little May is lost?" sighed Mrs. Bell. "Is there no bird who can call the name of May?"

"I can!" cried the blue jay. "Listen to me!" Then he loudly called: "May! May! May!" or at least something that sounded very like that name. "May! May! May!!" cried the blue jay. Then the little pussy child off in the woods heard and observed:

"Here I am!" So Uncle Wiggily and Mrs. Bell knew where to look, and they didn't have to get Tooter and Scooter, who, as a punishment for what they had done, had no lollypops for supper that night. And if the automobile doesn't lose its wheel and make a noise like a little pig's squeal, I'll tell you next about Uncle Wiggily and the jolly rooster.

Church's Daily School Draws Many Children

Preparations for the Daily Vacation Bible school, which will be held beginning June 22 at Grand View Community church, are being rapidly completed. Indications are that there will be at least 150 children in attendance in the three departments, primary, junior and intermediate. No kindergarten children will be accepted on account of lack of room.

Members of the faculty of the school recently attended the four-day intensive training course given at Pasadena and are prepared for the work of conducting a Bible school. Worship, Bible study, dramatizations, pageantry, story-telling, music, hand-work and amusements will be included in the program.

Mrs. Margaret W. Thomas will be principal of the school and members of the faculty are: Mrs. Stephen Zitlow, pianist and teacher of intermediates; Mrs. Marian Mair and Mrs. J. A. Martin, teachers of junior department; Miss Marian Mair, teacher of intermediates; Miss Irene Hofstetter, and Miss Jean Hansen, teachers of primary department; Mrs. Emma Dyer and Mrs. A. B. Moody, craft work for girls. Rev. George W. Thomas and the Boy Scouts headed by Bruce Mair, will have charge of the craft work for the boys. Recreational work will be in charge of Miss Hofstetter, Mrs. Zitlow and Rev. Mr. Thomas.

LA CRESCENTA

LA CRESCENTA, June 13.—Women of the La Crescenta Women's club look forward to swelling their clubhouse fund tonight, when club members and friends will enjoy a jolly barn dance at the Gould barn in La Canada. Mrs. F. L. Sullivan and members of the ways and means committee are in charge. Overalls, gingham dresses and other rural costumes will be proper dress for the supper and dance to follow. Those having no means of transportation are to meet at 6 o'clock at Mead's oil station. Those motoring are to drive east on Michigan avenue to La Canada drive, then north on Gould avenue, where the route will be marked with arrows.

Austria is issuing money in new denominations.

BUSY WEEK FOR TWILIGHT LEAGUE

Five Postponed Games to Be Decided Before First Round Ends June 25

By A. S. HALL
Of The Evening News Staff.

With the fifth week of play over in the Twilight league, the players are preparing to bring the first round to a close in the next two weeks. There are five postponed or undecided games to be played off in the two weeks, as well as the regular scheduled games, so busy times are ahead.

The Calla Lily crew moved up a notch in the standings during the past week, going into a tie with the Radios. This move resulted from a 9 to 7 victory over the Glendale Creamery, Wednesday, while the Radios dropped 100 points by being nosed out Thursday by the Public Service, 7 to 6.

The outstanding game of the week was that between the Postoffice employes and the Huli Trucks on Tuesday. The players did not get in four full innings, and when the time limit was reached at 7 o'clock, the score was 14 to 14. The mailmen had their hitting clothes on, and rapped out bingles almost at will. Thirteen mailmen went to bat in the third inning, and nine of them scored.

The scheduled game for next Tuesday between the Huli Trucks and the Radios, has been shifted to Friday, and the truckmen will play off one of their postponed games on Tuesday. The postponed games to be played before the first round ends are: Glendale Creamery vs. Christian church; Huli Trucks vs. Firemen; Huli Trucks vs. Public Service; Glendale Creamery vs. Postoffice; Postoffice vs. Huli Trucks.

Monday's battle will be between the Firemen and the Glendale Creamery. Tuesday's battle has not been decided upon. Wednesday the Calla Lily and Public Service teams meet. Thursday the Postoffice and Christian church tangle, and Friday the Huli Trucks and Radios take the field.

The standings at the end of the fifth week follow:

	W.	L.	Pct.
Public Service	4	0	1.000
Firemen	4	0	1.000
Huli Trucks	2	0	1.000
Calla Lily	2	3	.400
Radios	2	3	.400
Christian Church	1	3	.250
Glendale Creamery	0	3	.000
Postoffice	0	3	.000

The results of play for the first week follow:

May 11—Firemen, 7; Radios, 5.
May 12—Huli Trucks, 14; Calla Lily, 1.
May 13—Glendale Creamery vs. Christian church, postponed, rain.
May 14—Public Service, 12; Postoffice, 1.

The results of play for the second week follow:

May 18—Huli Trucks vs. Firemen, no game.
May 19—Radios, 8; Postoffice, 1.
May 21—Calla Lily, 9; Christian Church, 3.
May 22—Public Service, 9; Glendale Creamery, 3.

The results of play for the third week follow:

May 25—Firemen, 4; Postoffice, 3.
May 26—Radios, 3; Calla Lily, 0.
May 27—Huli Trucks, 28; Glendale Creamery, 0.
May 28—Public Service, 15; Christian Church, 3.

The results of the fourth week of play follow:

June 1—Firemen, 13; Calla Lily, 4.
June 2—Radios, 3; Christian Church, 7.
June 3—Huli Trucks vs. Public Service, postponed, rain.
June 4—Glendale Creamery vs. Postoffice, postponed.

The results of play for the fifth week follow:

June 8—Christian Church, 5; Firemen, 8.
June 9—Postoffice vs. Huli Trucks, time limit reached, no game.
June 10—Glendale Creamery, 7; Calla Lily, 9.
June 11—Radios, 6; Public Service, 7.

Navy Oarsmen Arrive At Scene Of Regatta

POUGHKEEPSIE, N. Y., June 13.—With the Navy dropping anchor here late yesterday, all seven crews that will face the starter in the intercollegiate regatta on June 22 prepared to go out over the course this afternoon, with perfect weather conditions prevailing. The middies were quartered in the same boat house with the Washington eight, champions of the river.

START INVESTIGATION

LOS ANGELES, June 13.—Officials of the State Athletic commission today launched an investigation of rioting in Hollywood stadium last night, following the raising by Referee Larry McGrath of the hand of Georgie Rivers, Los Angeles bantamweight, at the end of Rivers' whirlwind ten-round bout with Tommy Ryan of Buffalo, N. Y.

WHITE SOX WIN

The Athletics fell back a stride nearer the field by finishing an absolute second to the White Sox 15 to 1. Faber had plenty and Walberg nothing, Eddie Collins staking himself to four hits.

GEORGIE RIVERS GIVEN DECISION

Fans Object To Action Of Referee In Bout With Tommy Ryan

Winning the decision by a narrow margin, Georgie Rivers, Mexican bantamweight, defeated Buffalo Tommy Ryan last night at the Hollywood Stadium. Many thought that Rivers deserved nothing better than a draw, but on account of his pushing the fight at all stages, he was given the shade. Tommy Ryan showed real cleverness and it is a distinct honor for the local banty to come out with Ryan with flying colors.

The semi-windup was brought to an abrupt finis when Johnnie Grella fouled Harry Runcan in the first round. The fight had not gone far enough to see who had the real class but up to the time of the low blow Harry Runcan was having the best of the argument.

Bobby Tracy made the special event short and sweet by making Jimmy Butler listen to the 'birdies" in the third round. Butler was knocked down twice in the second round and was felled once more in the third before taking the count. Billy Blake defeated Al Hoffman while Johnny Sacco out-classed Kid Ceriaco.

W. T. Vickery Catches Bass Of Eight Pounds

The prize catch of the season, a black bass weighing eight pounds, is on exhibition today at Cornwell & Kelty, 107 South Brand boulevard. The fish was landed after thirty minutes of hard fighting, by W. T. Vickery, realtor, with offices at Brand boulevard and Doran streets, while on a fishing trip at Big Bear lake. The bait used was a minnow, and the fish was hooked on a number 12 hook, Mr. Vickery said.

With Mr. Vickery at the time of the catch was W. C. Page, also of Glendale, and friends from Los Angeles. They were fishing from the motor launch of Mit Drown, guide of Big Bear lake, who guarantees fish when he takes out a party. The party landed black bass and trout, using salmon eggs for trout fishing.

The trip to Big Bear lake was made by Mr. Vickery and his party over the Mill Creek road, and the return trip by way of the City Creek road. The roads are good, Mr. Vickery reported.

BOXING NOTES

AT NEW YORK—Sid Terris decisioned over Johnny Dundee, New York, fifteen rounds; Rene Devers, Belgium, got the decision over Sid Lee, six round; Harry Felix, New York, beat Mickey Travis, New Haven, ten rounds.

AT ERIE—Jimmy Jones of Youngstown, Ohio, and Tommy Freeman, New Orleans, drew in ten rounds.

AT AURORA, ILL.—Mike Ballerino, New York, and Frankie Schaefer, drew, ten rounds; Pete Sarmiento, Filipino, bested Pal Moore, Memphis, Tenn., ten rounds.

AT DENVER—Teddy Gartin, Denver, decisioned Glen Milligan, Sioux City, three rounds, in a rough battle.

Man-O-War Colts Are Favored To Win Races

NEW YORK, June 13.—The Man-O-War colts, American Flag and By His-Self, were top-heavy favorites to win the rich Belmont stakes third and last of the $50,000 classics for 3-year-olds, this afternoon. The race will be at a mile and three furlongs, over a lightning-fast track at Belmont park.

BRAVES OVERCOME

The Cubs came up for air by gaining a 9-to-7 verdict over the Braves, the latter dropping to last place.

XLV—PURE BLOOD STREAM

Q—I have an ulcerated tooth that has been lanced and drained several times by a specialist who has advised that I have the tooth taken out and the bone scraped. I have a horror of operations and want to avoid this if possible and will try most anything.—Mrs. J. R. N.

A—A pure blood stream will carry away poisonous matter that has been deposited any place in the body. If the blood stream does not contain too much poisonous matter the lungs will burn up much of it, and the poison will be expelled in the form of gas through the bronchial tubes; some will come out through the pores of the skin and other organs of elimination.

If the blood stream is overloaded with toxins, which is often caused by overeating of wrong foods, these poisons will find weak places in any and all parts of the body and develop pus pockets. The pus pockets will quickly disappear when the blood stream is purified.

This day and age of sausage grinders and soft food has left little for the teeth to do and the tissues holding the teeth in place become weak, and from lack of proper food and exercise they soon become inflamed and the worn out tissues are not replaces as fast as they are worn out.

This makes an excellent dumping ground for the blood to dump its impurities. Purify your blood stream and it will replace all worn out parts of the body and carry away all waste material. The blood will do this when nothing else will. A fast of a few days, say about seven, will usually allow the blood to become pure enough to eliminate simple cases of tooth trouble. Serious cases require two or thee short fasts.

After these fasts a diet containing fresh fruits and vegetables once or twice daily will prevent any further trouble with loose or ulcerated teeth. A common case of pyorrhea will disappear when plenty of fruit and vegetables are eaten, leaving out white flour products. A meal of sweet naval oranges in the evening is very beneficial.

Deep breathing will help wonderfully to keep the blood stream free from toxins. When eating the fruits and vegetables make a meal of them and do not try to mix them with cooked food. Raw food digests much quicker than cooked food. This is contrary to popular theories but is a fact nevertheless.

LETTER CARRIERS IN BARGAIN BILL

Long Beach Mailmen Come For Two Games Sunday At Local Park

Tomorrow will be bargain day at the ball park on San Fernando road when the Glendale Letter Carriers and the Long Beach mailmen will stage a double header. The first game will start at 1:30 o'clock, according to A. S. Wood, manager of the local postal employes.

Long Beach and Glendale staged an eleven-inning tie several weeks ago at the beach city, the score being five all. The game had to be called at the end of the eleventh inning to enable two other teams to take the field. Since that time Glendale has dropped one game and won one.

Bush will probably draw the pitching assignment for the first game, with Richards doing the mound work in the second contest. Whitley will be behind the log. Others in the local lineup will be Shoemaker, Wietzel, Selover, Currier, Wright and Bullock.

Hotel Men of Nation Call Upon Glendale

and Glendale avenue. After a half hour's stay during which refreshments were served and pictures taken, the delegates departed for Hollywood and Venice.

They were met at Pasadena by Glendale representatives who piloted them to the hotel. On arrival they were received by a committee from the Chamber of Commerce including George Karr, vice-president of the chamber and chairman of the committee, P. L. Hatch, Alexander Mitchell, C. W. Ingledue, one of the owners of the new hotel, and O. S. Watts, manager of the hostelry.

Many Officers Came

Several national officers were in the party though the new president, George Swayne of San Diego, did not come. Past President William Deffenbacher of Chicago and all but one of the national board of directors were along. One of the prominent visitors was Harold Van Norman, lieutenant-governor of Indiana, and a wealthy hotel owner.

Paul L. Dupin, proprietor of a Detroit hotel and formerly of San Francisco, who boasts he has never missed a national convention, was here. He is well acquainted in Glendale and has visited here on occasions during many years.

The refreshments served were supplied through the courtesy of the Comalt Co., Inc., of Glendale.

The Glendale hotel is expected to open early in July with a Spanish fiesta and ball, carrying out the jubilee year idea.

CORPS MEETING

Miss Lenora Skelton, patriotic instructor, gave a report of the recent department convention at Sacramento, yesterday afternoon at the meeting of the Women's Relief Corps at G. A. R. hall, 902 South Glendale avenue. She gave her report in the costume worn at the convention. Mrs. Mary Bennett, president, directed the meeting. Members of the corps planning to attend the federation meeting at Sawtelle Monday have been requested to meet at the corner of Brand and Broadway and take the 9:25 bus on the corner opposite Roberts & Echols store.

Trio Asks Demurrer On Kidnap Charge

LOS ANGELES, June 13.—Opening a legal fight to dispel the mystery surrounding the alleged plot to kidnap Mary Pickford and hold her for a $200,000 ransom to be paid by her husband, Douglas Fairbanks, was made when attorneys for Adrian Woods and Claude Holcomb, held with C. Z. Stevens in the purported conspiracy, filed a demurrer to the grand jury indictment on the grounds that the trio actually committed no offense.

Attorneys for the men declared that instead of "confessing" and pleading guilty, as announced by detectives who arrested them, the trio would fight the indictment.

BANQUET CLOSES ROUND OF VISITS

Southern Barnyard Offers Idea For Decorations At Church Dinner

As a fitting climax to a most successful "get-acquainted" campaign inaugurated by members of the Broadway Methodist church, South, and conducted during the past month, a banquet was served last night at the church by the losing side, the Buckboards. The banquet was spread in the social hall, covers being laid for 174 guests.

The two teams in the campaign were known as the Oxcarts and Buckboards, with O. B. Staples and H. G. Ross elected as their respective captains. The report showed that nearly 3000 calls had been made and fifteen new members secured. The Oxcarts won by a narrow margin and the campaign throughout was characterized by good-natured rivalry.

The men of the losing team prepared and served the meal. The social hall was decorated to represent an old southern barnyard and ox lot, no detail being overlooked. The hay, stalls, troughs, old lanterns, harness and cow bells were decorations used and a miniature oxcart formed the centerpiece on the table. Mr. and Mrs. C. I. Johnson, formerly of Savannah, Ga., had charge of the decorations while Messrs. Ervin, Roscoe and Lutes prepared the menu and cooked the meal. C. L. Johnson was head waiter and, assisted by a corps of members of the Buckboards, served.

Music During Meal

During the meal music was furnished by the Sunday school orchestra and piano solos were also played. The program was in charge of J. N. McGillis and it included readings, songs, instrumental solos and original poems. Rev. Maurice M. Johnson, pastor, gave an impersonation of a negro, appearing as George Washington Wilkes Booth Lincoln Johnsing. Others on the program were: Mrs. C. L. Johnson, Mrs. J. W. Knight, Miss Gene Guatier, Mrs. M. M. Johnson, Miss Gladys Shields, Miss Corrine Grose, Mrs. Rosco, Mrs. Ruyle, E. W. Rye, H. G. Ross, H. M. Ruyle, O. B. Staples, E. C. Millikan and J. N. McGillis. At the close of the program, Rev. Johnson thanked everyone for their co-operation in the campaign.

that their work was splendid and their training excellent. The school choral organizations were under the direction of Mrs. E. Kirk Kent, music teacher at the school.

In the girls' glee club competitions Wilson school was opposed by the Santa Paula school chorus, representing Ventura county. The competition was close in this event. The Wilson boys' glee club won the state banner without competition by making a score of 85 per cent.

Wins in Dancing

In the only other competition on the program, Nellie Aleshire of Glendale won in the advanced division of the national dancing contests. Dorris Snowdon of Ventura was second. Marjorie Gillingham won in the junior dance division with Janell Turpin second.

Other numbers were: Toe dancing solo by Edna Lucile Harvey, Glendale; vocal solo by Paul McLain, Ventura; interpretative duet dance by Evelyn and Leona Hunt of Glendale; interpretative dance solo by Adrienne McDade of Glendale; exhibition violin solo by Eddie Ulrich of Los Angeles, duet toe dance by Elizabeth and Beatrice Turner of Glendale; and special presentation of sailor's hornpipe dance by girls of the Burbank High school.

Judges last night in the musical events were Gage Christopher, Ray Howard Crittenden and Mrs. Alice McKenzie. Dancing judges were Miss Helen Ohman, Olive M. Newcomer and Miss Jessie K. Irving. H. M. Butts was auditor of judges' reports. Mrs. Roy A. Ballagh presided as chairman of the program. Mrs. Max Lynn Green and Mrs. Malvern C. Barker formed a reception committee.

The concluding program of the Eisteddfod finals will take place at the Hollywood High school auditorium tonight when the Burbank Choral club and choirs of the Central Christian and Congregational churches will represent the Glendale district.

Winners Of Field Day Appear In Many Events

Annual field day was celebrated Friday at Glendale Intermediate school, with 140 pupils participating in the various events, thirty-four entering from each of the four classes. The field was gay with class colors, A-8 with purple and gold, A-7, red and black; B-8, red and white, and B-7, blue and gold. Officers of the Associated Students directed the program and Miss Dorothy Misner and Amer Petty of the faculty, were judges.

The A-8 class committee was composed of Miss Nathalie McKay, Margery Baum and Virgil Bates; B-8, Miss Caroline Ainsworth, Pansy Matson, Norman Taylor; A-7, Miss Grace Arthur, Osman Knight, Geraldine Baughman; B-7, Miss Alta Gaynor, Elizabeth Haviland and Norris Cochran.

Track events included over and under relay, balancing relay, newspaper relay, sack race, potato race, wheelbarrow race, three-legged race.

A-8 won first place with seventeen points to their credit; A-7, second, with sixteen points, while B-8 had ten and B-7, nine. Following the field events, a baseball game was played between the A-8 and B-8 classes and was won by A-8. Mr. Petty umpired.

DEATHS-FUNERALS

MRS. HARRIET COOPER

Mrs. Harriet Cooper died Friday, June 12, 1925, at her home, 132 South Cedar street, at the age of 47 years. She had been ill several months. Mrs. Cooper had lived in Glendale five years. Surviving her are her husband, Samuel W. Cooper; a mother, Mrs. Margaret Tuescher of Chicago, Ill.; two sisters, Mrs. Josephine Froelick of Sheboygan, Wis. Mrs., Mrs. Louise Foster of Chicago, Ill.; three brothers, Frank, Charles and Peter Tuescher of Chicago, Ill.; and a niece, Miss Mildred Foster of Chicago, who had been in Glendale caring for her aunt during her illness. Mrs. Cooper was a member of Glen Eyrie chapter, O. E. S., of Glendale, and had many friends in that organization, and in the neighborhood in which she lived. Funeral services will be held at 2 o'clock Monday afternoon in the chapel of the Jewel City Undertaking Co., 137 North Orange street. Dr. Lincoln A. Ferris, pastor of First Methodist Episcopal church, will officiate.

CHARLES L. BULLARD

Charles L. Bullard died Friday morning, June 12, 1925, at a local hospital at the age of 60 years. He was a native of Illinois, and was a drygoods merchant. Surviving him are his wife, Mrs. Katherine Bullard of 115 North Kenwood street; a daughter, Mrs. Corinne Dougherty of Creston, Iowa; a son, Allen Bullard of Porterville. His body was taken to Creston, Iowa, for services and burial. Kiefer & Eyerick, directors.

VOTE FOR BONDS SAY COMMITTEE

Citizens Who Probe Need Of New Schools In Favor Of Proposed Issue

Editor The Evening News—The undersigned committee selected as representatives of all sections of Glendale to make an investigation and report on the condition of the Glendale intermediate and elementary schools, wishes to assure the citizens of Glendale that the proposed bond issues are worthy of their wholehearted and unqualified support.

Our investigations show that the schools are crowded far beyond their normal capacity, that 1100 children are going to school only one-half day and that 800 children are going to school in temporary quarters.

We also wish to assure the people of Glendale that the program of expansion outlined in our report and recommended to the Board of Education, in case the bonds are voted upon favorably, is one of supplying the actual present needs of the schools. All estimates have been very carefully made and we feel that the program can be successfully carried out with the money allotted to each project. We feel that any further delay in providing the means of expanding our intermediate and elementary schools will be serious as far as the educational advantages offered to the children are concerned.

Failure Serious

We also feel that it would be a great blow to the future progress and advancement of our city if these bonds should fail and Glendale should get a reputation of not providing adequate school facilities. From the standpoint of good business alone Glendale can hardly afford to let this opportunity go by.

For the welfare of our city we urge all citizens to go to the polls on Tuesday, June 16, and vote for the school bonds.

We Sponsor the Memorial Hall Bond Election June 16, 1925
—BECAUSE—

1—Our soldiers and sailors—the men and women who offered and gave their lives in all America's wars—are worthy the modest memorial planned.

2.—The hall will provide a center and school for patriotism, an efficient aid to the children's schools which we earnestly support. It will provide a home for any and all service organizations desiring to use it. At present almost all such societies meet here, there, and anywhere they can, rent and overhead holding down their membership and funds needed for civic and patriotic endeavors.

3.—Glendale is one of the very few cities similar in size and ambition which has not erected an adequate token of appreciation to its veterans.

4.—The memorial—neither ornate nor luxurious but substantial and serviceable—will be built, owned and controlled by the city and located where city authorities may determine.

5.—The American Legion, true to its promise, is turning in the site voted them two years ago to be used or sold as may be deemed best. The Patriotic and Memorial Hall association, if made custodian of the memorial, plans to maintain and care for it.

6.—The cost is ridiculously small in proportion to the great benefits to be derived from this great civic asset. To the average taxpayer—less than "a pint of ice cream per year."

7.—Because we know the people did not forget their sons and daughters during the trying days of war and steadfastly believe they will not forget them now.

—VOTE YES FOR THE MEMORIAL BONDS—

WORTHY OF EVERY VOTER'S SUPPORT

A bond election will be held in Glendale on Tuesday, June 16, to decide the question of issuing bonds in the sum of $150,000 for the purpose of building a Memorial hall.

Those who are behind the movement assure us that it is to include all that its name implies and much more. There will be archives in which will be kept the records of all of Glendale's sons who have served their country in time of war, and there will be rooms in which will be kept relics and mementoes of the Great War. Thus shall we keep alive the memory of the service rendered by those who gave their all as well as of those who have lived to see the fruits of that service.

If it stopped there it would be a worthy project, an expression of gratitude to those who answered their country's call in time of need.

But this Memorial hall is to be more than that, much more. It is to furnish a meeting place for all of Glendale's patriotic organizations: the Grand Army of the Republic, the Spanish War Veterans, the American Legion and all of their auxiliaries and allied organizations.

It will also fill a long felt need of a municipal auditorium where conventions may be held and which Glendale's citizens may use for any civic purpose.

Since one project will serve all of these worthy and useful purposes, it would seem to be an opportunity that as citizens we should make the most of by voting for the Memorial hall bonds.

Hold Glendale Man As Last Of Bandit Gang

With the arrest here yesterday by Glendale police of Antonio Pedraza, porter at a Brand boulevard cafe for the past two years, the last member of a burglar gang that is alleged to have been operating in Southern California cities for a long time is believed to have been captured. Members of the Los Angeles department, headed by Captain Cahill of the central station, searched Pedraza's room at 310 Vine street, Los Angeles, last night and found a large quantity of women's clothing, a typewriter and various other articles believed to have been stolen from Glendale homes.

During the past two days four other alleged members of the gang have been arrested. Yesterday morning, shortly before Pedraza was captured here, one man was arrested by San Diego county authorities when he was about to cross the Mexican border at Tia Juana. He had $1900 in cash with him.

A number of suitcases filled with clothing, found in Pedraza's room last night, are believed to have been taken in a recent house burglary in Glendale. Local residents will be asked to identify their belongings at the central station in Los Angeles.

Students Of Piano And Voice To Give Recital

Piano pupils of Mrs. Eva Cunningham are to appear in recital Tuesday night at the Van Grove music salon, 337 North Brand boulevard. Assisting will be Miss Anita Cook, Miss Rose Straus, Gilmore McDonald, artist pupils of Vernon Spencer; and Joy Kingan, soprano, artist pupil of John Smallman. Mrs. E. R. Ripley will be accompanist. The entertainment program will be open to all interested.

The FUN of SAV-ING UP

FEW PLEASURES in life equal those of achievement. To accomplish a definite thing, to do it by your own will power and initiative—this brings real joy.

The normal pleasure in a Security Savings Account, grown to goodly dimensions, and still growing through steady accretions from interest compounded—this normal pleasure is not that of avarice or of the miser. It is the satisfaction in accomplishment, through the deliberate training of the will to save.

Money spent hastily rarely brings much satisfaction. Money saved, then used for something worth while, gives double pleasure.

THE OWNER'S LOSS WILL BE YOUR GAIN

I am auhorized to sell for $6000 a home that is easily worth $7000. There are some things you should consider in buying a home—desirable neighborhood, sightly location, restricted district, nearness to transportation and good market. I am offering all the above with a 5-room stucco house that in design and workmanship in construction and material used—is the best. Inside decoration in splendid taste. A real fireplace. Built-ins built with a view to convenience and comfort. A splendid buy at a sacrifice price —only $6000—small down payment and $60 a month. A PLEASURE TO SHOW. Telephone Glen. 5068-W. Address 1265 So. Adams, A. T. Webb.

PEOPLE TURN FROM DRINK TO DRUGS

Official Report Shows Use Of Narcotics Grows As Fewer Use Liquor

WASHINGTON, June 13.—Drug addicts in the United States number from 110,000 to 150,000, Prohibition Commissioner Haynes declared in an official statement today.

Violations of the Harrison anti-narcotic act, the report showed, are increasing, 3364 persons having been tried in 1922 and 4837 from July 1, 1924, to June 1, 1925. Convictions rose from 93 per cent in 1922 to 95 per cent in 1925, according to Haynes.

Haynes, describing his four years as prohibition commissioner, said that the "big bootleg operator is making his last stand."

"Successful enforcement of the prohibition law is closing one source of liquor after the other," Haynes said.

"Real whiskey, wine, gin or brandy are now practically unobtainable for beverage use. Moonshining is less general. Home brewed beer has disappeared. Liquor smuggling has been reduced.

"Strides in enforcement during the last four years are remarkable, considering the obstacles to be overcome. In various localities there is still strong opposition. Local assistance has not been given in these and conditions are not what they should be. Everywhere; however, they are so improved over four years ago there is no comparison."

Many Convictions

Criminal indictments for liquor violations totaled 163,643 from July 1, 1921, to May 15, 1925, according to Haynes. Of cases 121,654 resulted in convictions.

Every means provided by law is being used to fight the prohibition law violators, it was pointed out. More than 7000 injunctions have been obtained in federal courts. "Padlocking" of resorts, cafes or other places where liquor is sold for a year or more has not been infrequent.

eleventh. The weather was fair and ideal for the race.

The diminutive De Paolo was cheered loudly when Charles M. Schwab, steel magnate, presented him with a gold watch before the start of the race.

Ralph De Palma, uncle of De Paolo, was working in his nephew's pit and signaling encouragement to his protege.

Duray crashed into a clay bank near the pits, but was uninjured and his car remained upright. He was out of the race.

Dave Lewis was forced out on the thirty-sixth lap with a broken connecting rod. Shafer was forced out on the forty-third lap.

On the sixty-eighth lap the crowd was treated to more thrills when Morton's car lost both tires on one of the high banked curve. He was able to get the machine to the pits for new tires and was off again. At the seventy-five-mile mark Bennie Hill was in front despite the time he lost inspecting his car at the pits.

Earl Cooper followed Hill, with Morton, Milton, Hartz, De Paolo, Comer, Hepburn, Kries, Devore, Elliott, McDonough and Wonderlich close behind.

Bennie Hill, who led for seventy-three miles, was forced out with transmission trouble at the start of the seventy-fifth lap. This put Earl Cooper in the lead, with Milton second and De Paolo third.

At the 125-mile mark, Cooper was maintaining his lead, followed by Milton, Comer, Hartz, McDonough, Wonderlich, De Paolo, Elliott, Devore, Kries, Hepburn, J. Hill and Morton.

The time for 125 miles was 119 miles per hour.

Labor Plan Unchanged By Death Of W. Stone

CLEVELAND, June 13. — The sudden death of Warren S. Stone, head of the Brotherhood of Locomotive Engineers, and generally accounted the driving force which led labor to enter the banking business on a large scale, will not affect the general policies of the great organization, officials declared today.

Stone died late yesterday from an acute attack of Bright's disease. His funeral on Monday will be attended by most of the labor leaders of the country.

W. B. Prenter, first vice-president of the brotherhood, took up the reins this morning and will "carry on" until a successor to Stone is elected.

Senator La Follette Is Ill On Birthday

WASHINGTON, June 13.—Senator La Follette will celebrate his 70th birthday in bed. He has contracted a severe cold due to the sudden change in weather when the heat wave broke and physicians have ordered him to remain quiet, especially in view of the throat affliction which has troubled him lately. The senator will be 70 years old tomorrow.

COMMENT by GIL A. COWAN

Wonderful nights! California's sunshine has been hackneyed in efforts of enthusiasts to describe this wonderful clime. But the nights, they are more wonderful than the days in summer, it seems.

About 3 oclock in the afternoon a sea breeze wafts over the Hollywood hills to Glendale and sweeps like a draft through Verdugo canyon and laves the perspiring brow.

By 7 o'clock, with the ruddy sunset reflecting gloriously from the Pacific ocean into a blue purple sky, shadowed by hills, the resident of this favored vale begins to appreciate the cool evening. And then motor rides and dancing, among other activities, are in order.

A high fog sometimes washes the dust from the air, carrying it away with the first rays of sunshine in the morning while the most of us have been peacefully sleeping, under blankets, by the way.

It is neither too cold, nor suffocating, in Southern California these wonderful summer nights. If you have to travel the desert stretches the cool, dry air and the moonlit sky paint portraits for the mind's memory.

Of course you appreciate these things if you live here, but call attention of tourists to the "wonderful nights."

Delegates to the California Greeters' convention in San Diego, who were visitors in this city today, had the pleasure of first inspecting the new Glendale hotel. It is fitting that these hotel owners and their clerks should know that Glendale will have adequate accommodations for the wealthy tourist, as well as the business man who travels. Their attention should be called to the fact that Glendale has many family hotels and apartment houses, also, for this city has too long been heralded as having no hotel, due to crowded conditions of several smaller hostelries, having but few rooms for transients.

Hotels make possible conventions; they advertise the city to the wealthy as a good place to bide a while, and they bring business men here for their headquarters while calling on trade.

Remember, folks, when writing eastern friends, to tell them Glendale has good hotel accommodations. The Glendale, the Maryland, the Glengarry, the Central, the Brand, the Lexington, the Victor, the Vert-Mont, the St. James, and the rest of them—pardon the omission if we failed to name several—are bidding for trade.

The Chamber of Commerce has its representatives dressed in Spanish costume today. This is in accord with California's Jubilee year plans. It recalls the days of the dons, when romance ruled the land.

Would that we could turn back the clock, or, rather, the surging years, and have a whole month of Sundays in which to relive the carefree, sportive life of the Verdugo, the Mertinez, the Gonzales, the Oliva families of Glendale forty years ago!

NEW YORK CLOSING

By W. S. COUSINS
For International News Service

NEW YORK, June 13.—The industrial stocks started the short session today with a higher range of prices. Oil stocks continued to dominate the speculative list, with fractional gains in practically all of the independent and standard oil shares. Motor stocks and a few specialties made new gains of a point or more in the first hour, and the tone of the whole market was distinctly buoyant.

The week-end business reviews emphasized the effect of the warmer weather on retail trade, reports showed a larger volume in the first two weeks of June, as compared with May and April. Standard Oil of New York, Gulf Oil, Sinclair corporation and Texas Co. put into effect their higher price schedule for retail gasoline. Private reports from mid-continent and Pennsylvania oil fields stated that good premiums over posted prices were being paid by the refiners for crude petroleum.

Texas Co., Independent, Marland, Phillips, Simms and Shell-Union oil reached fractionally higher prices on heavy trading in the first hour, at the end of which profit-taking appeared and a reactionary tendency prevailed in the oil list. New forward movements were started in the motor stocks, with Mack Trucks and Willys-Overland and Hudson motors in demand at higher prices the latter advancing to a new high for the year, around 66.

The rally continued in General Baking, Ward Baking, Standard Milling, International Combustion Engineering, Universal Pipe, Cast Iron Pipe and Armour in the specialties, as well as American Can, Baldwin and General Electric in the industrial leaders. The independent steel stocks were strong, but inactive, with Gulf States nearly 2 points higher. International Nickel sold in volume at the best price levels of the movement. Copper stocks were inclined to slightly higher levels at the opening, but they failed to attract much attention.

The strong tone of United States Steel, which advanced to 115½, was an important bullish factor in the short session. Developments in the steel trade in the last two weeks have been favorable and a heavy investment demand for the stock is reported in brokerage circles.

United States Steel pushed through to 116¼, up nearly 2 points, near the close of the market, leading an enthusiastic rally in which the oils, rubber and tire stocks and many of the industrials and specialties participated.

United States Rubber and Goodrich led the rubber stocks. Westinghouse Air Brake advanced about 6 points, to 106½; Texas Gulf Sulphur, in a new rally, reached 107.

Serbian government 8s featured the foreign government bond list with an advance of a point, to 89⅝; German and French issues were steady; British 5½s sold up to 106½, for a fractional gain, and Japanese 6½s were in demand around 94¾.

United States Liberty and treasury bonds were inactive, but steady, with few price changes. Treasury ;4s sold at $107.16; treasury 4s at $103.12; Liberty second 4s, $101.15, and fourth 4s at $102.31.

Industrial and railroad bonds exhibited a firm tone, with numerous gains in the convertible oil and rubber company bonds. United States Rubber 5s sold at 89⅝; American Telephone & Telegraph 5s at 104; Missouri, Kansas & Texas Railroad adjustment 5s were in demand at 85¾ and New York Central 5s at 102.

Stocks sales, 777,800 shares; bonds, $5,438,000.

Sales for the week, 7,740,100 shares; bonds, $67,430,000.

TESTIMONY ON POISON PLOT PRESENTED

W. D. Shepherd Boasts Of 'Big Money,' In Estate, Witness Declares

CHICAGO, June 13.—The dead hand of Mrs. Emma Nelson McClintock today reached out for the man accused of the murder of her son. William D. Shepherd's association with Mrs. McClintock and his alleged statement that "he would get his" from the Mc-Clintock estate, were told to the jury today by Jerome Matillo of Indianapolis.

Shepherd and his brother, J. H. Shepherd, had gone to Bayview, Texas, to oversee work on Mrs. McClintock's estate there, it was brought out. According to Matillo, Shepherd boasted upon one occasion that "I'll come out of this with my pockets lined."

Louis Sbarbaro, uncle of John Sbarbaro, the next witness, formerly ran a restaurant. He said Shepherd used to stand around watching him open oysters.

"One day he asked me what part of the oyster poison was in," the witness said. "I said: 'What business are you in anyway?' and he said he was guardian of a rich boy. I asked him how much he got out of that and he said $7500 a year. I said I didn't think that was much and he said that some day he expected to have plenty of money."

On cross examination the defense brought out that the witness did not know what part of the oyster contained poison; that he was an uncle of the assistant prosecutor; that he had been questioned by the state and that he had talked to Judge Olson.

The defense scored when Judge Lynch sustained an objection to testimony alleging that Mrs. Shepherd took a ring from the dead finger of Mrs. McClintock.

Many workers in Norway recently received wage increases.

ELKS WILL HOLD FLAG DAY RALLY

Judge Collier To Give Talk While Music Members Listed On Program

Judge Frank C. Collier will deliver an address on the American flag at the Flag Day ceremonies to be conducted tomorrow afternoon by Glendale Elks' lodge. The public is invited to attend the program starting at 2:30 o'clock in the lodge rooms on East Colorado street.

The ceremonies will open with numbers by Paul Finstein's string quartet and the singing of "The Star Spangled Banner" by the audience. A trio composed of Eleanor Woodford, soprano; Melba French Barr, soprano, and Alice Lohr, contralto, will render "Let Us Have Peace" by Ball.

Officers of the Elks' lodge headed by Gerold A. Dockeray, exalted ruler, will participate in introductory patriotic exercises. Prayer will be offered by Dr. Paul J. Holmes. The lodge altar service will be given by the esquire and officers.

History Of Flag

A history of the American flag by John H. Fanset, solo numbers by Melba French Barr and Eleanor Woodford, additional trio numbers, and singing of "Auld Lang Syne" by the audience will precede the address by Judge Collier.

The program will be concluded with "The Home They Hold So Dear" by the trio and exit march by Paul Finstein's quartet.

A cordial invitation to all members of patriotic and civic organizations in Glendale to attend the Flag Day ceremonies was issued today by Exalted Ruler Dockeray.

Wild Ride By Girl Is Halted By Clothesline

ited the girl at the hospital, and the girl is said to have told them that she had swiched saddles after leaving the stable, and an English saddle, valued at $135 which was on "Chino" when she was started, had been thrown away. The saddle was found in a yard near Columbus avenue and Harvard street.

The western saddle on "Chino," which Miss Gibbs is said to have changed from "Happy," was damaged, the cantrell being broken off short when the girl was thrown by the clothesline.

Thorpe told police the girl gave her name as Helen Harlan, and her address as 463 Doran street when she hired the two horses. A petition recommending that the girl be returned to the Patton asylum from where she was paroled one year ago will be presented to the county lunacy commission by Chief of Police John D. Fraser. Miss Gibbs is said to have been raised in Montana where she learned to ride horseback, and is considered a good horsewoman.
